BEING A RECORD IN PICTURE AND PRINT OF
THE SCHOOL YEAR 1924-1925 AT THE HIGH-
EST UNIVERSITY IN THE UNITED STATES.

PUBLISHED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS
OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

JOHN H. CORBETT
Director of Physical Education at the University of Wyoming and the father of the High School Tournament at this institution.

DEDICATION

TO HIM, who has constantly given of his untiring efforts to a great task at Wyoming; to him who brought our athletics from that of a backwoods country University to first rank among the institutions of the Rocky Mountain Conference--

JOHN H. CORBETT

FOREWORD

IN THE preparation of this Volume it has been the aim of the Editors to record each important event of the college year and at the same time to express in our work the new era upon which our University is entering at this period. Wyoming is truly stepping forth to take her place in the ranks of the greater Universities of our country.

NELLIE TAYLOE ROSS
Governor of Wyoming. First woman governor in the U. S. A.

On April 27 the entire University was called into general assembly for the first time this year. The assembly was held on the spacious main floor of the new Wyoming Gymnasium. The occasion was the first visit, to the school, of Wyoming's Woman Governor, Mrs. Nellie T. Ross.

SENATE

To this group of men and to Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, governor, the students and faculty of the University feel most grateful.

Had it not been for their rejection of certain measures that came up during the legislative session the Institution would have suffered the loss of a source of large income and would have been set back many years on its path of progress.

Fay E. Smith, Fred W. Geddes, Frank A. Holliday, J. M. Schwoob, J. A. Elliott, Dean Prosser
Mrs. Avery Heggard, Mrs. Harriett Grieve, Governor Ross, Mrs. Katharine A. Morton, E. O. Fuller, President Crane

It was at this meeting of the board that important plans relative to the future of the University were discussed. These plans were made possible by the generous action of the recent Legislature in rejecting legislation that would have diverted University revenue into other channels.

College of Liberal Arts

The principal objective of the College of Liberal Arts is the enlargement of the student's powers and of his understanding of the world; to give him an intellectual grasp on human experience.

It is not a mere collection of departments grouped for convenience and offering a wide range of courses that are mainly, but not exclusively, theoretical.

It is not chiefly a service institution furnishing fundamental courses to be built upon in other schools, and making concessions also to the needs of the many for a wide variety of pre-occupational training.

It is not primarily seeking to prepare men and women for research in the technical sense, but it does seek to equip them with that broadness of vision and that depth of discernment that will enable them, as opportunity offers, to assume leadership in human affairs, and that will inspire them with the desire to advance knowledge.

It agrees to three propositions: First, a certain amount of specialization is really essential in a liberal education in order not to sacrifice depth to breadth.

Second, a certain amount of specialization may properly, though not necessarily, be determined by a vocational motive, but such studies should be restricted to a fourth or less of the student's time, in order that he may not lose sight of the principal end of liberal education, that is enlargement of his powers and of his understanding of the world for its own sake.

Third, specialized studies determined by a vocational motive should be taken, if at all, at the latter end of the arts curriculum in order to insure sufficient preliminary grounding in principles and an approach to such subjects in a spirit that is scientific, rather than merely utilitarian.

JOHN A. HILL, Dean of the College of Agriculture

College of Agriculture

It is interesting to note that the enrollment in the Wyoming Agricultural College has increased rapidly during a period when the number of students enrolled in agriculture has been decreasing for the United States as a whole.

I believe this is due to the fact that the young people of Wyoming realize the advantages of preparing themselves for rural life and leadership in a state whose agricultural possibilities are just beginning to be developed. The increased enrollment in agriculture and home economics promises well for the whole state.

Each of the increasing number of graduates who leaves the college and takes up life in this state, either as a teacher, investigator, farmer, business man, or home maker, will be a new center from which will radiate much of the best that can be learned from books and laboratories about problems of agriculture and home making in Wyoming.

To paraphrase the language of the recently enacted Purnell Law, which gives additional federal aid for the study of the problems of the farm and home, each new graduate of the Wyoming Agricultural College will assist in "the establishment of a permanent and efficient agriculture" and "the development and improvement of the rural home and rural life."

DOROTHY E. LIGGETT, Ph. B., Director of the Commons and Instructor in Institutional Management.

BERNICE TUCKER, B. S., Instructor.

MARY CARSON, A. B., Instructor.

The profession of home-making is one of the greatest factors in human progress because its purpose is to conserve the life of the individual as the basis of all advance in human progress.

To assist the profession of home-making in reaching its ideals, the Home Economics curriculum offers work which will enable the young women who complete its course to become efficient housewives, teachers, dietitians, extension workers, research workers and institutional managers.

Many of our graduates are now serving the state well in various capacities and we hope each year to be able more nearly to supply the demand.

EARL D. HAY, Dean of the College of Engineering

College of Engineering

Wyoming is popularly known as an agricultural state, yet the Government census report of 1920 shows that over fifty per cent of the male wage earners of the state were employed in occupations of an engineering nature. As time goes on this percentage is sure to increase, because Wyoming is rich in coal, petroleum, lumber, mineral, and agricultural resources, which as yet are undeveloped or are being shipped to other markets in neighboring states, at raw material prices to promote the industrial development and enrichment of communities beyond our borders. The industrial development of Wyoming alone will stop this bleeding of her resources, and, this industrial development will come only through the work of members of the engineering profession loyal to the state.

It is the function of the College of Engineering to train the future leaders in this industrial development, to give its students a vision of the industrial possibilities of this section of the west and to inspire them with an ambition for genuine service to the communities in which they live.

Department of Electrical Engineering

GILBERT H. SECHRIST, M. S., Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering.

EARL R. WITZEL, B. S., Instructor in Electrical Engineering.

CHARLES R. MAXWELL, Dean of the College of Education

College of Education

The organization of the University of Wyoming makes it possible for students in the College of Education to come in direct contact in the classroom with other student groups who are preparing for all sorts of life careers. This tends to give the prospective teacher a cosmopolitan attitude, a breadth of vision, a tolerance for the opinion of others, and a respect for the intelligence of persons engaged in other occupations and professions—elements which are necessary for success in the field of teaching. Service in the elementary schools, because of our social environment, will continue to be the responsibility of women. Our high schools offer equal opportunities to both men and women. Vigorous men of judicial temperament have unlimited opportunities in the field of administration.

May the young men and women of this University give serious consideration when deciding upon a life career, to the profession of teaching.

Arts.

J. A. HELMREICH, Instructor in Project Training.

J. GERALD DRISCOLL, JR., Dean of the Law School

The Law School

Though the University was organized in 1881, it was not until 1920 that there was incorporated in the regular curriculum a professional course of law. In the brief period of less than two student generations, the Law School has made most gratifying progress. The School has received an "A" classification by the American Bar Association, the highest classification given by that body and shared only by the strongest schools. The Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. Membership in this organization is conditioned upon the adherence to rigid standards of entrance and graduation and the maintenance of ample equipment and adequate teaching force. The current year has been marked by the improvement in the physical equipment of the school, both by way of substantial additions to the law library and through the installation of modern court room equipment. The year has also been marked by an increase in enrollment of over sixty per cent. It is hoped that the year's accomplishments will pave the way for greater accomplishments in the future.

J. GERALD DRISCOLL, JR., A. B., LL. B., Dean of the Law School.

CHARLES G. HAGLUND, A. B., A. M., J. D., Associate Professor of Law.

“W” CLUB

OFFICERS

CLAIR BLANCHARD*President*
 WALTER SPEARS*Vice-President*
 J. K. CORBETT.....Secretary-Treasurer

The men's Honorary Athletic Society of the University of Wyoming, commonly known as the "W" Club, consists of all men who have been awarded a "W" in any branch of Varsity athletics. The object of this organization is to maintain a high standard of sportsmanship and clean athletics. Each year the basketball letter men of the Club choose the All-State High School Basketball Team of Wyoming. At the beginning of the fall term each year the Club informs the Freshmen of the school traditions. Through this Club the letter men of the University are drawn more closely together and are able to co-operate for the best advantages of athletics.

THE 1924 FOOTBALL CAMPAIGN

"LONESTAR" DIETZ

Lester scored the first touchdown of the season for the Cowboys. DeForest, Spears and Gilbert starred. DeForest and Gilbert were injured in the game.

October 25—Homecoming. Wyoming, 0; Colorado U, 21. Wyoming played the best football of the season, but lost the homecoming game. The score was no indication of the closeness of the game. Twice the Cowboys had the ball on the one-yard line, but were unable to score. At the half-way mark the score was deadlocked at 0 to 0, and the Wyoming team had outplayed the Silver and Gold of Colorado State. Colorado used two sets of backs, and size and experience told in the last half, and the coming Conference champions were victorious. The game was a great credit to the Wyoming team and to Coach Dietz.

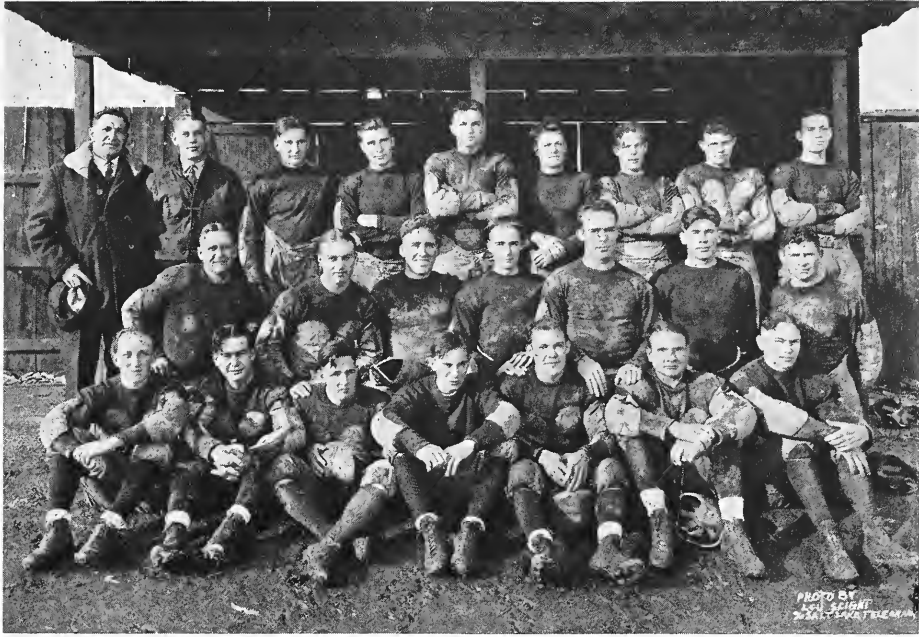

November 1—Wyoming, 3; Mines, 6. A tough game to lose, and the Cowboys deserved to win, as they outplayed the Miners in every department of the game. Erickson registered a long drop kick for Wyoming's tally and missed another by a few inches. A fumble after the man had crossed the goal line cost the Cowboys the game. Faurie played the best game of the season and covered himself with glory at his old school.

November 5—Wyoming, 18; Montana State, 17. The most thrilling game ever witnessed on the Wyoming football field. Gish scored on the first kickoff, when Hatfield of Montana fumbled the ball. The balance of the game was even, with first one team scoring and then the other. Wyoming held the Bobcats for four downs on the two-yard line during the last minutes of play. The Cowboys were at the peak of their season during this game, and played good football at all times. This was the last home game of the season.

October 4—Game with Colorado Aggies cancelled on account of the death of Governor Ross.

October 11—Wyoming, 0; Denver U, 7. The Pioneers scored a touchdown in the last three minutes of play after Wyoming had outfought and outplayed them all the way. Denver outweighed Wyoming fourteen pounds to the man. DeForest booted the ball 95 yards for the longest punt ever registered at Broadway Park in Denver.

October 18—Wyoming, 33; Colorado Teachers, 8. The Cowboys won their first victory in two years by hanging it on the Teachers in a slow game at the University field. Teachers scored on a fluke after a kick-off.

SQUAD AT SALT LAKE

Top Row—Coach Dietz, DeForest, Allsman, LaNoue, Erickson, Denton, Gish, Mabee, Vandaveer.
 Second Row—Kocher, Miller, Gilbert, Redhair, Roberts, Wood, Greenberg.
 Third Row—Groves, Lester, Blanchard, Rice, Faurie, O'Bryan, Corbett.

November 11—Wyoming, 2; Utah Aggies, 25. This was the first game of the Utah invasion and the Cowboys played the worst football of the season against the Utah Aggies. There was no outstanding man on the team and every player was guilty of some misplay during the game. Wyoming's lone score came as a result of O'Bryan blocking a Utah kick and an Aggie man recovering the ball back of the Wyoming goal line for a safety.

November 15—Wyoming, 0; Utah U, 28. The Cowboys suffered their second loss of the Utah trip when Utah U trimmed them at Salt Lake. The game was rough and the officiating was entirely against the Cowboys. Wyoming held the Utes for the first half to 7 points, but in the last stanza everything went against the Wyoming team, and the team was demoralized by so many men being taken from the game by the officials. Mabee played the best game of his career. He was the outstanding man of the Wyoming team.

November 22—Wyoming, 3; Colorado College, 21. The last game of the season was a tough one for the Cowboys, and they lost to the strong Colorado College Tigers at Colorado Springs. Wyoming scored in the first frame via the drop-kick route and was leading at the end of the first period. McDougal, the flash C. C. back, got away with a number of long runs for touchdowns. The Tigers could do nothing against the Cowboys by straight football and had to resort to long runs. This was the last of five games in three weeks.

GEORGE M. VANDAVEER, Tackle

Captain Van had tough luck when he injured his knee in the first practice scrimmage of the season and was out of the first three games and was unable to play but very little in the rest. This was Van's third and last year on the Varsity. He has been a good, consistent player for Wyoming and has always had the old spirit, "Wyoming never quits."

HAROLD GILBERT, Guard

Gilbert is captain-elect for next year and is the wise choice for the position. He is the fightingest Cowboy that ever donned the Brown and Yellow, and is going to have the honor of captaining the best Wyoming football team in the history of the school. An injured hand early in the season handicapped Gilly this year, but his influence on the team was apparent when he wasn't in the line-up.

IRVIN REDHAIR, Quarterback

Playing his first year on the Varsity, Irv did well when he was in the game running the team. He has a good head on his shoulders and will be a valuable man to Coach Dietz next year. He came out late for football this season, but made a name for himself during the time he was in the game.

OSCAR ERICKSON, Center and Tackle

Ock played his first year of Varsity football and did a good job of it. He played in nearly every position on the line, but was used most of the season at center. Ock is the boy with the gold toe on the Varsity team and handled most of the kicking for the team when DeForest was out of the game. He scored drop kicks against Mines and C. C. Ock will be back next year to play for Wyoming. Erickson received honorable mention on the all-Rocky Mountain eleven.

ELTON ROBERTS, Fullback

In the Montana game, Heavy played the game of his career. Whenever called upon to carry the ball he was there and over. A number of Wyoming gains were due to efforts of our friend Heavy. This was his first year on the Coyboy team and he has a nice future for football in the Wyoming school. When Heavy gets under way something has to move when he hits the line.

ROY GREENBERG

A steady football player and a plugger all the time, is Greenburg. He played his second year on the Varsity this season and will be back with Coach Dietz next year. Not flashy or sensational, but a man who can always be depended upon. A man of this type is valuable to any team. Next year should be Greenberg's big year with the Cowboys.

WALTER SPEARS, Fullback

Spears was the first-string Varsity fullback this year and played his second year on the Wyoming team. In the Colorado U game Walt was a consistent ground gainer and played one of the best games of his life. Walt was thrown into the breach during the Montana game and did much in stopping the advance of the Bobcats toward the Wyoming goal line.

CLAIR ("OKIE") BLANCHARD

Quarterback

The biggest little man in Wyoming wound up his athletic career by playing first-string quarterback on the Wyoming team. This was Okie's third year on the Varsity team and he covered himself with glory during the season. An injured wrist in the Teachers' game hindered him during the balance of the season, but he was always there and fighting. Okie was the safety man this year and made some nice returns on punts.

LOUIE ALLSMAN, End

Hard hitting and dependable. This is the way to describe Allsman, the Cowboy's lanky end. Playing his first year on the Varsity, Louie was in every game, and few were the plays that were sent around him. He will back next year and will be a valuable man to Coach Dietz. An all-around athlete—never sensational—but a man who can always be depended upon to do his bit.

FRANKLIN DEFORREST, Fullback

He deserved all-Conference first team, but a broken shoulder in the Teachers' game kept him out of a number of the midseason games. Duke was the boy that chalked up the longest kick ever registered in Broadway Park, when he booted the pigskin ninety-five yards. In the D. U. game DeForest was the sensation of the day and played stellar ball all the way. Duke received honorable mention on the all-Rocky Mountain eleven for the year. This was his first year on the varsity.

GEORGE MABEE, End

Mabee played his first year on the Varsity and was one of the best ends developed. He shone brightly in the Utah game, and a Salt Lake sport writer stated that it was the best exhibition of football ever seen on a Salt Lake field. There is some doubt about George returning to Wyoming next year and it will be a job to fill his place at end. He was the kind of end who would throw himself before the interference and spill all of it and sometimes get the runner.

FRED RICE, Halfback

Rather small in size but full of fight and shifty on his feet. Rice accounted for much yardage in the Montana game, and it was his best game of the season. He was injured in the Utah U game and was out of the lineup for the balance of the season. This was Rice's first year on the Varsity and he will be with the Brown and Yellow next year. He is a little light for the heavy work but makes a good, fast half for end runs.

JOHN CORBETT, Half and Fullback

Corbett finished his football career this year at Wyoming and the Cowboy school is losing a good man. This was Jack's third year on the Varsity and his loss will be keenly felt in football. He was a triple threat man, as he could run, pass or kick. A man of this type is valuable on any team. His feature was a good toe and a good arm for throwing forward passes.

JOHN GROVES, Halfback

Another little fellow with all the fight in the world, played his first year on the Varsity this year and proved himself to be a football player of the first class. Groves is featured in end runs, and, due to speed and shiftness of foot, he is able to get away around the ends for good gains. He is a constant threat with the ball and is always good for a gain when his interference is fast enough to get away. He will be with the Cowboys next year.

HAROLD HOBBS, Fullback

Hobbs is a plugger and a sticker, and for his hard work earned his reward this year by making his letter. Sickness kept him out of the lineup last year, but he was out this year and never missed a practice. Always there when the Coach wanted him and a man the Coach could depend upon to go into the game and do as he was told. The just reward of a faithful Cowboy.

FRANCES LANOUE, Guard

His second year on the team and a scrappy football player who will be back next year to take another whirl at the great college game. Babe played a nice game all season at guard. His position was a hard one for the opposition to gain through, and he could be depended upon to open up a hole in the line. Babe played steady ball all year and will be a good man in the line next year.

WORTHAM DENTON, Tackle

Playing one of the hardest positions on a Dietz-coached team, Denton delivered the goods and played good football in all the games he was in. Jeff come out late for football in the fall, but soon proved his worth to Coach Dietz and was one of the mainstays of the line during the latter part of the season. This was his first year of football and he will be back for another try next year.

EDWARD MILLER, End

Playing end for the second year, Miller showed his stuff and was always in the game. Miller is credited with saving the Montana game when he nailed Hatfield for a loss when the latter tried to circle Miller from the one-yard line on the last down the Montana team had in the game. Miller is a hard tackler and a sure man on forward passes. Next year will be his last on the Wyoming team.

ZOLLIE WOOD, Guard and Tackle

Another plugger is Zollie Wood. He showed his fight and football ability in the Colorado game when he fought so hard that after the game he had to be assisted from the playing field. Always under every play, he is a wonderful guard. Several times during the season he was shifted to tackle and played as well in this position. This was his last year on the team, and the services of this valuable man will be missed.

KARL GRETH, Tackle

His second year on the Varsity found Greth as dependable as ever and a member of the squad. He is a man with a lot of football experience and a hard worker in the line. Not only is he a good man both offensively and defensively in the line, but he can also punt and has the best arm of the squad for forward passes. When called back out of the line to pass or kick he generally made a good job of it. He will be back in a suit next year for the Cowboys.

GEORGES FAURIE, Halfback

First-string halfback for most of the season, Buck was always in the game and trying. He scored for Wyoming this year and was one of the most clever men in the Cowboys' backfield. Buck traveled down to Mines and before his old classmates and against many old friends in Mines played the best football he did of the season. If every man on the team had played the game Faurie did against the Miners, Wyoming would have another victory marked up on the final totals.

WILLIAM KOCHER, Tackle

Bill was ruled ineligible for football in 1923, but he was eligible last season and a member of the team. He is big and has two hundred pounds of fight when he gets to going. Bill was responsible for a lot of losses for the opposition this year when he tore off some nice tackles behind the line of scrimmage. This was Bill's first and last year on the Varsity, as he graduates in June.

ROBERT GISH, Center and Tackle

When Bob Gish steps onto a football field he undergoes a complete transformation. From a peace-loving individual he turns into a fighting fool and fights until the last man is down. At center, where he started the season, he played sweet ball, and his passes were always good. He was shifted several times and during the season played tackle, center, backfield, and even took a shot at end.

PAUL O'BRYAN, End

Here is one of the smartest and hardest tackling ends that ever donned a Cowboy football suit. He weighs but 145 pounds, but he is all fight and won the respect of every backfield in the Conference. As his name implies, Obie is a good old Irish fighter and battles all the time. He played stellar ball all season, but showed especially bright in the Utah Aggie game.

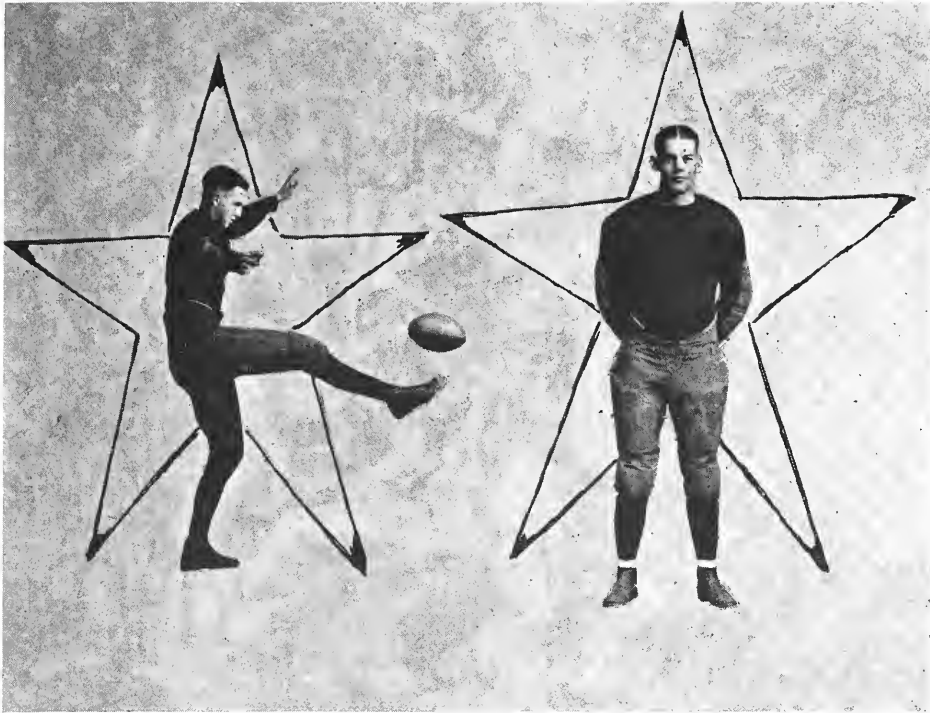

BILL LESTER, Halfback

A first-string halfback of the first waters. Bill played his first year of college football and coaches and fans alike are wild about him. He had the honor of making the first Cowboy touchdown of the season and incidentally the first touchdown in two years when he scored from the 25-yard line in the Teachers' game. He is a scrapper in every sense of the word and will be with the Cowboys next year.

OSCAR ERICKSON

ALL-CONFERENCE FOOTBALL

The highest ambition for football players is to make the All-Conference team. The next highest honor is to receive honorable mention on the mythical team, and two of Wyoming's sons received this honor. They were Franklin DeForest and Oscar Erickson, and no two men in the Conference merited this honor more than DeForest and Erickson. Both men played their first year on the Varsity and both will be back next year for football.

Erickson hails from Cheyenne and is a graduate of that city's high school. During his time in Cheyenne High he was a member of the football and basketball teams of Cheyenne and covered himself with glory in everything athletic. Erickson was put into the D. U. game at center shortly after the game started and held down this position for most of the season. A couple of times he was shifted to end or tackle in the line, and wherever he was put he always gave a good account of himself. He is a fighter in the line and a powerful defense player. Along with his power as a line man he has a good kicking toe.

DeForest is a product of Laramie High School and was a member of that school's teams until graduation. Upon entering the University of Wyoming, he went out for Freshman football and was elected to pilot the Frosh football team. This year, as his first, on the team he played halfback and was the best ground gainer on the Wyoming team. DeForest is a triple threat man. He can pass, kick or run. His punting was one of the features of the Conference this year. Duke broke his collar bone in the Teachers' game, and was out of all the mid-season games. He played in the last two games and proved himself worthy of all-Conference mention.

BASKETBALL

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

The Cowboys experienced the most successful season they have yet had as members of the Rocky Mountain Conference, and placed a close fourth in the final standing of the teams in the Conference. The Cowboys opened the new gymnasium this year by knocking off the strong University of Utah team in a close and hard-fought battle. The next night the Cowboys lost to the same team.

The tough break of the season came in the fact that Wyoming was forced to play Colorado University and Colorado College early in the season and lost both these games away from home. Both games were close and Wyoming sprung into the Conference limelight as a possible contender for the title. The Cowboys hit their stride after this game and swept everything before them.

Denver University went along undefeated and led the Conference until they journeyed up to Laramie, and the Cowboys knocked them off for two games and tumbled the Pioneers out of the lead. C. C. then became the Conference leaders. Wyoming knocked them over for a game at the new gym and the title was anybody's in the Conference.

Aggies took a whirl at the Cowboys on the Wyoming floor and were so hopelessly outclassed that the games weren't even interesting. The Cowboys completely snowed the Aggies under with a host of field goals. The Farmers never could solve the Cowboys' defense for a short shot.

Then came the tough luck, and when Wyoming had a chance to finish first or second the team had to go to Greeley and take a drubbing at the hands of the Teachers in the tiny building they so humorously refer to as a gymnasium.

The teachers and a referee beat Wyoming in a return game in Cheyenne, which did not count as a Conference game.

The Cowboys did not lose a Conference game on their own floor, and all the teams they went up against, except the Aggies, were tough teams to beat.

Nine men made their letters at the Varsity this year in basketball and they will all be back for next year. The letter men were: Captain Erickson, Captain-elect Banta, Lester, Fox, Pierce, Allsman, Emery, Koerfer and DeForest.

ALL-CONFERENCE BASKETBALL

With the completion of the 1925 basketball season three men from the University of Wyoming were placed on the All-Conference team as selected for the Spaulding basketball guide. These three men were: Captain Oscar Erickson, on the first team; Ora Pierce, on the second team, and Captain-elect Ted Banta on the honorable mention roster. These are the most All-Conference men that Wyoming has ever received in one year and the school and state are proud of them.

Erickson was the unanimous choice of all the coaches in the Conference for one of the guard positions on the mythical team. He was also selected in this position for the Spaulding basketball guide. This was his second year on the Wyoming basketball team. At the close of the previous season on the team he was selected to captain the 1925 team and he did a good job of it. Ock is well versed in the sport and always fighting for the team and school. His position is standing guard, and from this position he was one of the four high-scoring guards of the season. Many times his long shots looped through the basket when the Cowboys needed points.

The second all-conference honor team included the name of Pierce of Wyoming, and he was the wise selection. Many were of the opinion that he should have been given first team along with Erickson. In commenting on the Wyoming guards, Herb Dana, premier referee of the Rocky Mountains and an authority on basketball, stated that the Cowboys had the two best guards in the Conference. Pat was used as running guard this year, and his ability to dribble dazzled every team that the Cowboys faced in basketball. This was his first year on the Wyoming team, and before coming to the University he played with Laramie High School and where he was selected on the all-Wyoming team. He was also a member of the Greybull High team for two years before coming to Laramie. He will be back with the Cowboys next year.

The captain-elect for next year's basketball team is Ted Banta, and he was the man who received honorable mention on the all-Conference team. Next year will be Ted's fourth year on the Wyoming team, with which he has always been one of the main performers. He plays at forward and is one of the surest shots in the Conference. Ted suffered an off season in the early games and did not show his stuff until the latter part of the basketball year, at which time he proved his value and ability. Banta received his high school training at Greeley High in Colorado and was a member of that school's basketball teams for the four years he was in high school. During the time he was in Greeley he was named as forward on the all-Colorado team, and his running mate was Greeley Timothy of the same team and now the best forward in the Rocky Mountains.

BOXING

Boxing at the University of Wyoming is one of the sports in which the Cowboys seem to be most proficient. For the last three years Wyoming fighters have either tied or won the first place in the Conference.

The team this year had a very poor start toward the winning of a Conference championship. Blanchard, for three years Conference champion and captain of last year's team, was unable to compete on account of injuries sustained in football. There was a particular lack of coaches for the work, and only after a long period of lost training season G. R. McConnell was secured to coach.

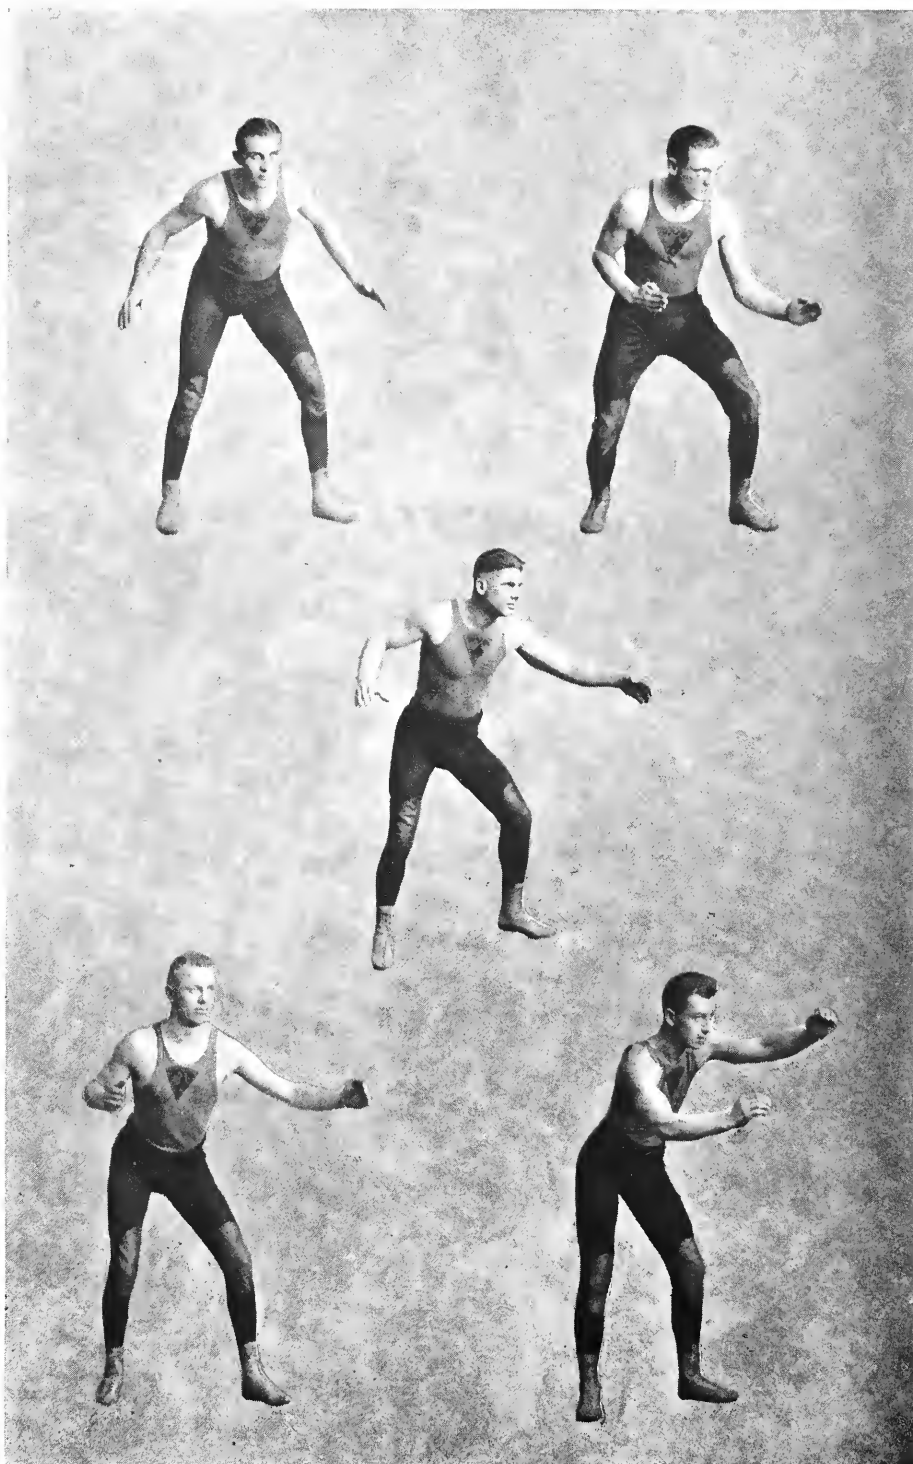

When at last a team was ready to enter the Conference dual meets, schools with which meets were scheduled failed to produce teams. This meant at the time of the Conference finals the Cowboys, all new men, were inexperienced.

The semi finals of the Conference meet gave Rider and Hart a chance to show their stuff. Both of the men were totally lacking in experience, but against old heads at the sport did wonderfully well. Both of these men being Freshmen, will mean a lot to the University, pugilistically speaking.

The finals had Mowry, Hubbard, Linton, Munson and Astin. Munson was the only one who had fought in the semi-finals, the others either byes or forfeits. In the first match of the evening Astin won a decision over the Mines' 115-pound man. Munson followed with one over the 125-pound boxer of Boulder. Mowry, at 158 pounds, lost the decision to Mines. Mowry, however, is a good, fast fighter and, with the development of a punch, should do big things in the Conference. Hubbard of Wyoming, in his fight with Rut Volk of Mines, had the toughest fight on the program. Volk is a heavy hitter and has had a great deal of experience. Hubbard stayed with Volk through three rounds of punishment that only the best of courage could have sustained him. Linton won the Conference championship on straight forfeits.

Altogether the boxing season of the University of Wyoming ended just as successfully as it had appeared to have started unsuccessfully.

WRESTLING

Wrestling, along with boxing, is one of the bright lights of Wyoming's athletics. For several years Wyoming has put out a wrestling squad of which she may well be proud. The first meet of the season was held at Greeley. Here the Cowboys showed their superiority by taking all but two of the matches. Bettis, Scott, Zaring, Wood and Russell, in 115, 125, 135, 158 and 175 pound classes, respectively, took their matches by falls. Backus lost his match in the 145 class by a decision and LaNoue lost in the heavy-weight class by a fall. The score for the meet was twenty-three to eight.

Next on the wrestling ticket came a dual meet with Colorado Aggies. The team had been weakened by recent illness in the squad and could not do their best. Bettis started things by taking his match. Scott, after a long scrap, went to a draw. Zaring took his man into camp by lifting him into the air and dropping him to the mat with force enough to knock him out. Backus lost by decision. Wood took his match by decision. LaNoue was defeated by decision and Linton was thrown to the mat by "Heavy" Smith, who is famous in Rocky Mountain wrestling circles. The final tabulation showed: Wyoming, 14½; Aggies, 14½.

Wyoming was host to the Conference in its mammoth gymnasium for the Conference meet. The first night resulted in Scott being thrown by a fall. Zaring suffered the same fate. Zollie Wood came out victor in his match. The second night witnessed a large crowd gathered to cheer the Cowboys to victory. Bettis took his man by a fall and started the ball rolling. Wood repeated his performance of the previous night. Again the Aggies split honors with Wyoming, but Wyoming was still sure of her superiority and a flip for the Conference cup proved that fact.

1924 TRACK

Wyoming had a track team that the state and school was proud of, and justly so. The Cowboys had two dual meets, one with Teachers and one with Aggies. The first meet was held on the Wyoming field and the Cowboys were overwhelming victors over the boys from the spud town. The Aggie meet was a reversal, and the Cowboys finished second in a dual meet.

At the Conference meet the Wyoming team took two places and a close fifth in the relay, only being nosed out at the finish line by the Aggies, who had put their main efforts into the relay race. Eastman placed second to Cogswell of Montana in the 220-yard dash, and Ormsby tossed the javeline for a third place.

Wyoming is entering upon a new era in track and the future teams promise to place the Wyoming school on the Conference track map in a very prominent position.

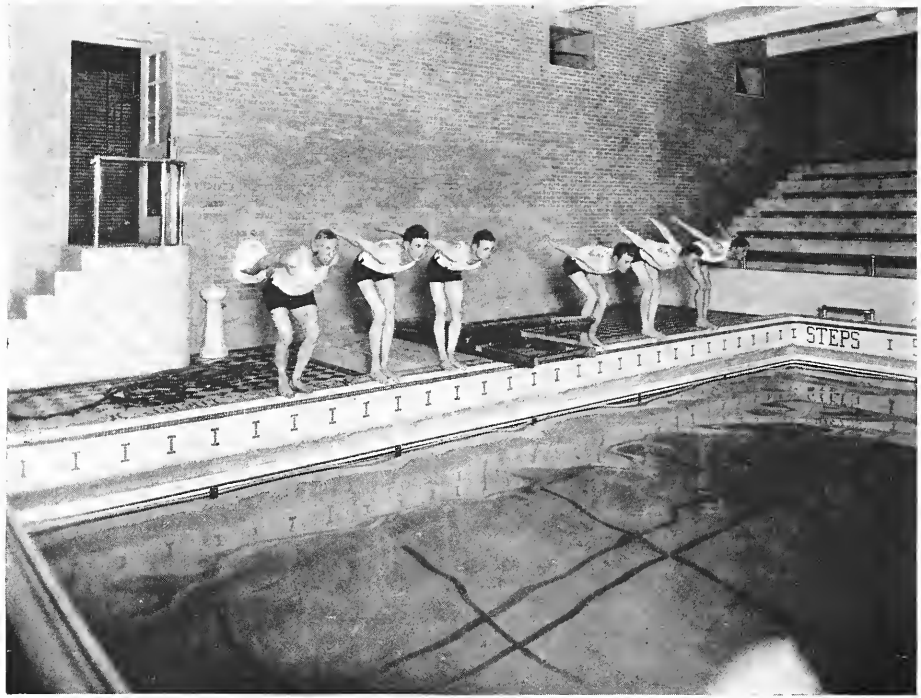

The last year's team was captained by Blodgett, who did not return to Wyoming for 1925. Eastman, the Cowboys' premier dash man was another who did not return but will be back for 1926.

TUMBLERS

Tumbling was a new sport at Wyoming this year. Coach Corbett first began working with the squad just after the Christmas holidays. The tumblers performed between halves at many of the basketball games and gave an act at the A. S. U. W. carnival-circus. The squad was composed of the following: Warren Cretney, Warrel Law, Fuzz Powell, Nels Corbett, Art Clark, Bobby Hynd and Lee Bettis.

SWIMMING

With the opening of the new University Gym and its magnificent pool, swimming was introduced as a sport open to all. The pool is one hundred by thirty-five feet and is white tiled throughout. It is now equipped with an intercollegiate five-foot diving board. No swimming team was organized this year, but next winter promises to see Cowboy natators take championships from the other institutions of the Rockies.

The picture shows life guards and swimming instructors standing at the south end of the pool.

INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL

The Intra-Mural Basketball series was run off this year on a percentage basis. Every team played every other team until the series was played off. Kappa Sigma suffered defeat from the Sigma Nu's in their first game and then went straight through to the final game, again with Sigma Nu, and this time to victory. Sigma Nu had a clean record until they met A. T. O. in the semi-finals. The Alpha Taus upset the dope when they nosed out the Sigma Nus and thus put the latter on the same percentage basis with the Kappa Sigs. The final game was one of the most thrilling intra-mural contests seen on the campus in some time. After a tie score and an extra five-minute period, the Kappa Sigs, by Fenex's short-field goal, gained victory with a slim one-point lead.

INTRA-MURAL TRACK

Intra-mural track was held rather late this year, not occurring until after some of the Varsity meets. S. A. E., last year's winner, took the banner for the second consecutive time. The Sig Alphas, with a strong, well-balanced team and with entrants in every event, amassed over 70 points. Kappa Sigma was second, with 39. Sigma Nu finished third and A. T. O. fourth. The intra-murals uncovered track material that did good service to the Varsity in the Dual and Conference meet. Prominent among these "finds" were Wedge Thompson, A. T. O., who garnered 7 of Wyoming's 9 points at the Conference meet; George Goble, S. A. E., who took fourth in the half; Irvin Redhair, S. N., hurdler, and Louie Allsman, S. A. E., dash man and high jumper. Had Louie been eligible for the Conference meet, Wyoming's standing would have been several notches higher.

ATHLETICS

 Second Row—Clara Young, Lois Blenkarn.
 Bottom Row—Mildred Finnerty, Irene Murphey, Edith Malone

W. A. A.

The Women's Athletic Association is a national organization, encouraging college women to participate in various sports. The organization is governed by a standardized point system, awards being given for a certain number of points. The A. S. U. W. awards a "W" sweater to any person gaining a sufficient number of these points. Swimming was added to the list of activities this year.

W. A. A. was very successful on the campus this year, much due to the fact that the women were fortunate enough to send two delegates to the National Conference, which was held at the Southern Branch of the University of California in Los Angeles.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM

Top Row—Edith Bower, Lily Hawkes, May Brazell, Claudis Hon, Dorothy Spani.
 Bottom Row—Jessie Brewer, Doris Lineaweaver (captain), Bessie Brewer.

BASKETBALL

Basketball created much excitement among the girls this year, owing to the fact that there was a lot of keen competition for most of the positions.

The class tournament was very interesting, the Freshmen, Class of '28, snatching the championship, which has been in the hands of the class of '26 for the past two years.

The following games were played:

Freshman	17	Sophomore	7
Freshmen	20	Junior-Senior	9
Sophomore	23	Junior-Senior	10

The Varsity team elected—Forwards: Helen Keller, Constance Chatterton. Guards: May Brazell, Lillian Borton. Jumping center, Doris Lineaweaver. Running center, Claudis Hon.

HOCKEY

Much interest was shown in hockey the past fall. Many of the girls who could not take the regular weekly practice made a special effort to be out the last week before the games were played. The number of Freshmen who tried out for the team make prospects for next fall look very promising.

Although the results of the games show no outstanding ability, there is no question but that each team had at least one talented hockey player. Of those who saw the games, none will find it difficult to say that Helen Keller was the star player of the season.

VARSIITY HOCKEY TEAM

Bottom Row—Joyce Scott, Lois Blenkarn, Martha Pries, Nancy Jones, Clara Young.

The Freshmen and Sophomores opened the season; each made one score. The Junior-Senior team met the Frosh a week later and defeated them, 3—0. The Junior-Senior team met defeat at the hands of the Sophomores, 1—0. The score does not indicate the extremely good playing of the Sophomores, who several times nearly crossed their opponents' line for a goal.

Since the championship was won on a percentage basis, the Class of '27, who had not been defeated, became the hockey champions for the second time, having won it last year also.

The following is the mythical varsity team which was chosen: Blenkarn, C.; Jones, R. I.; Blydenburgh, L. I.; Young, R. W.; Borton, L. W.; Pearson, R. H.; Kellar, L. H.; Scott, C. H.; Thompkins, R. F.; Brauer, Price, G.

VARSIITY VOLLEY BALL TEAM

Mildred McDowell, Isabel Van Deusen, Bertha Cordes, Helen McCoy (captain), Irene Carlson, Pearl Green

VOLLEY BALL

Volley ball was started in the fall by Miss Hussey, the coach.

Pearl Green was elected manager of the Frosh team, and Mildred McDowell, manager of the Sophs. Teams were chosen later and Pearl Green was made captain of the Freshman team and Isabel Van Deusen was elected captain of the Sophomores. These two teams were the only ones entered in the fight for the championship.

Four games were played. The Frosh won the first two, 15—13 and 15—10. The Sophomores rallied in the third game and came out on the long end of the score of 15—8. Their luck did not hold, however, and the Frosh whipped them in the final game, with a score of 15—9, thus making the Frosh the champions of this year.

After the games were played the Varsity volley ball team was chosen: Helen McCoy, captain; Irene Carlson, Bertha Cordes, Isabel Van Deusen, Mildred McDowell and Pearl Green.

FROSH VOLLEY BALL TEAM

Bessie Brewer, Frances Kind, Jessie Brewer, Helen M. McCoy, Pearl Green (captain), Irene Carlson, Bertha Cordes.

TENNIS

Until last year there has been but little interest shown by the women in tennis. At that time, however, so many proficient players turned out that a big tourney has been planned for this spring. The championship should be hotly contested.

BASEBALL—SPRING OF '24

In the spring of 1924 the first baseball tournament was held. A great deal of interest was shown in the sport in spite of the fact that the team of the class of '27 walked away with every game. No official records were kept of the games played. The Frosh proved that they were proficient in this sport. This year it is expected that more competition will be shown, for there is a much greater number of girls out for the sport.

No varsity team was chosen last spring, but there were many very outstanding players.

SWIMMING

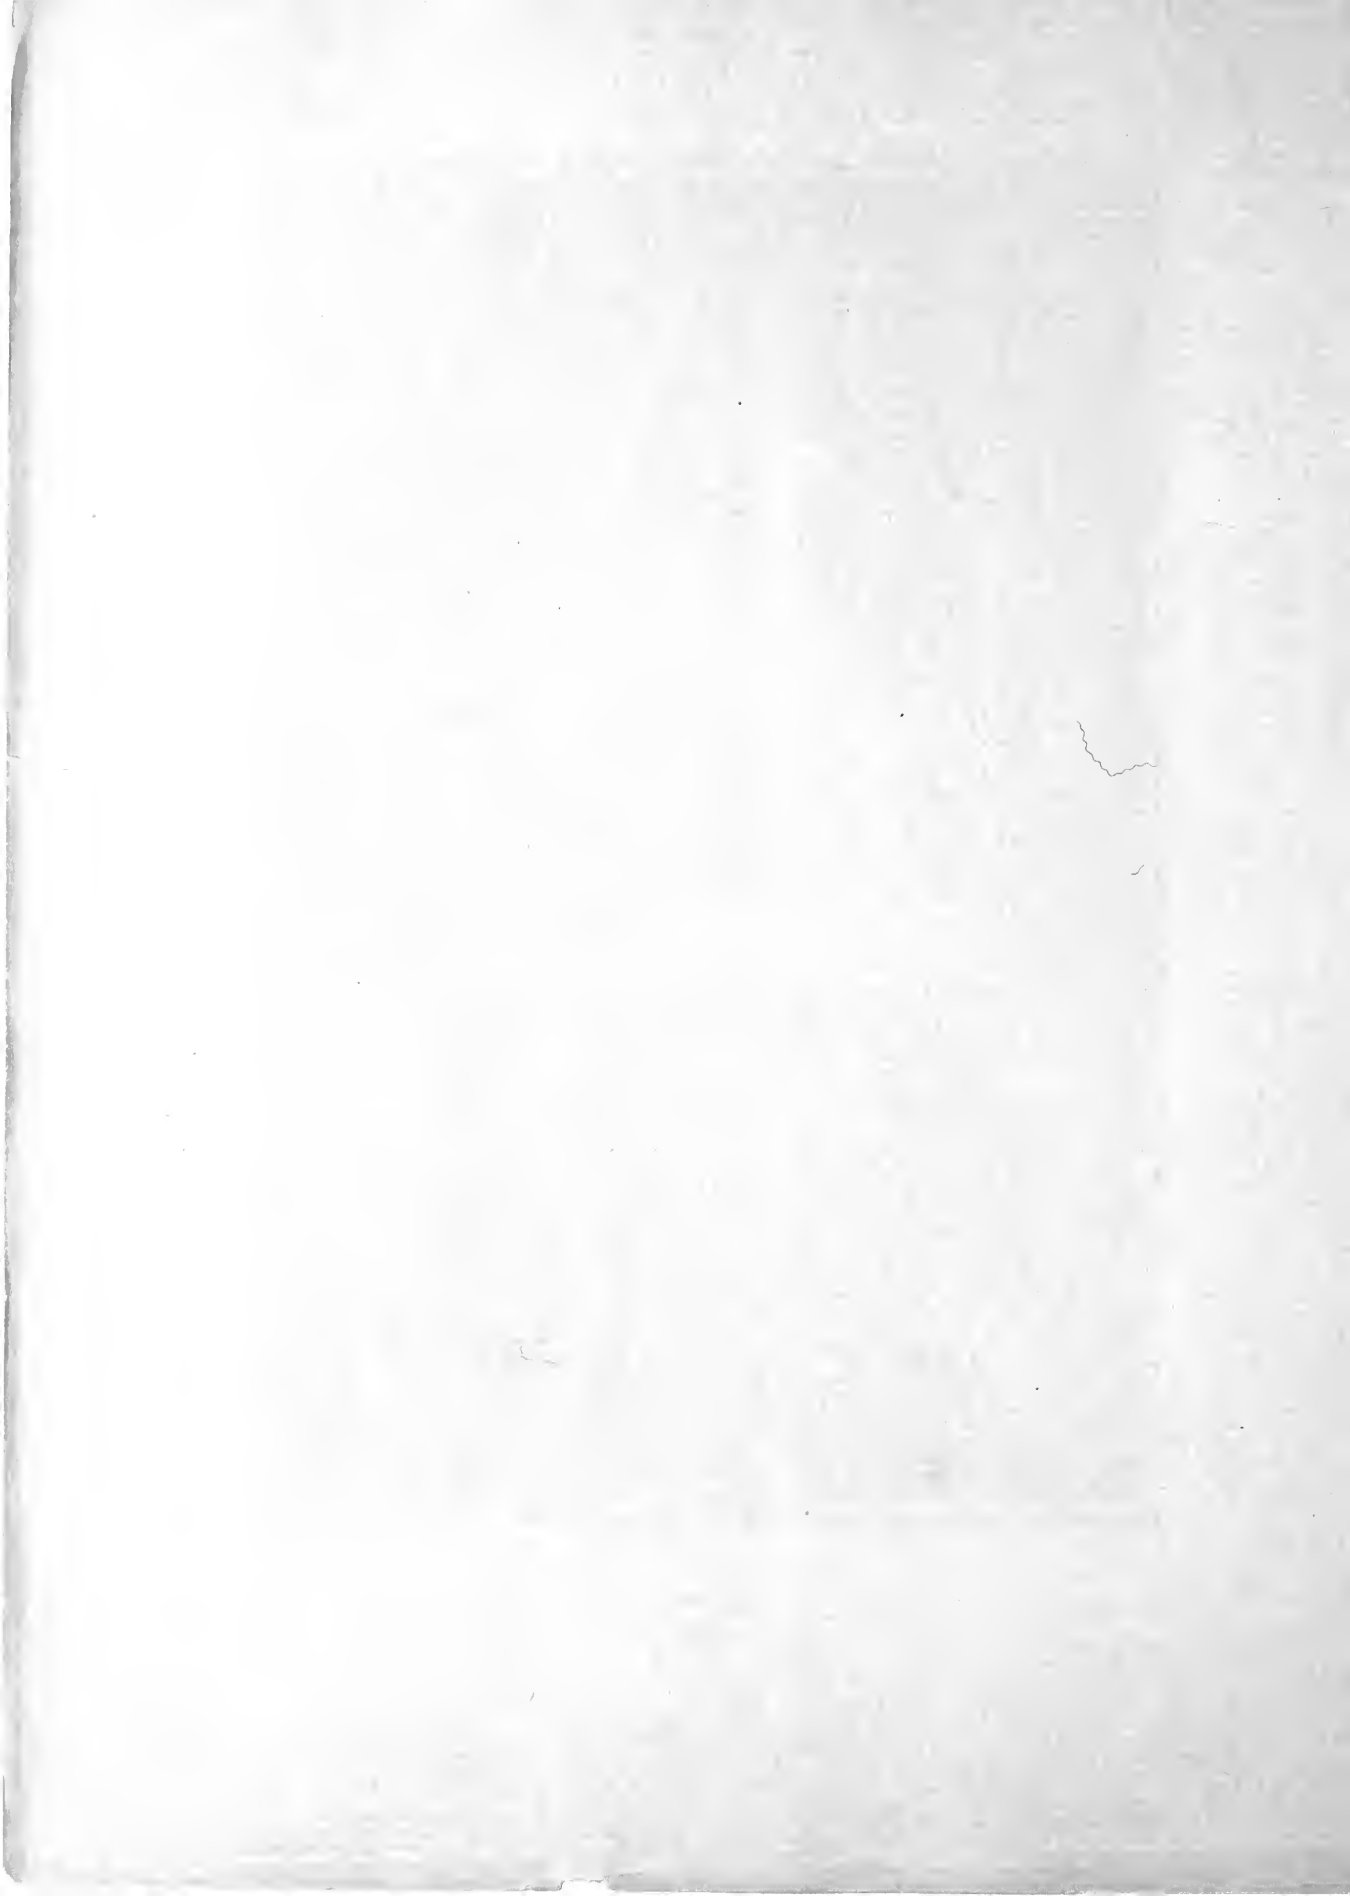

Swimming being a new sport at Wyoming University, no definite plans have been made for contests. There should be some good contests next year, as a tourney between Boulder, Denver University, Colorado Aggies and Wyoming will probably be held.

The beginner's classes are filled to overflowing and some very good material should be forthcoming from them.

The advanced classes are perfecting strokes and working for speed. There are some excellent swimmers in the classes, among them Lillian Borton and Clara Young.

THE LAST DRIVE

AN OLD COW-MAN'S REVERY

By E. A. Brininstool

Beside his sagging door he sits and smokes,
 And dreams again of old trail days, long gone.
 His eyes are dim! his form is bent and old,
 And silvered are the locks about his brow.
 He hears again the thud of pony hoofs,
 The clash of horns, the bellowing of herds,
 The shouts of riders and the pant of steeds,
 And creak of saddle leather as they ride.
 He sees the dust clouds hover o'er the trail,
 Where, snaky-like, the herd winds slowly on.
 He sees broad-hatted men—bronzed, fearless, bold,
 And as he listens, faintly to his ears
 Is borne the echoes of an old trail-song,
 While to his nostrils floats the scent of sage
 And greasewood, cactus and mesquite, that seems
 To lure him back among his ranges wide.

'Tis night! And now he sees the bedded herd
 Beneath the studded canopy of heaven;
 While hardy night-guards keep their vigil drear.
 The stars gleam out, and yonder rocky buttes
 Loom strange and weird and dim and spectral-like.
 The wagon top shines brightly by the stream,
 And in the flickering camp fire's feeble glow
 He sees the silent forms of old range pals
 In dreamless slumber in their blanket beds.
 The coyote's melancholy wail floats in
 Upon the silent, pulseless summer air,
 While overhead, on steady, tireless wing,
 The night-hawk whirls and circles in its flight;
 And down below the babble of the stream
 Makes low-crooned, soothing music, rippling by.

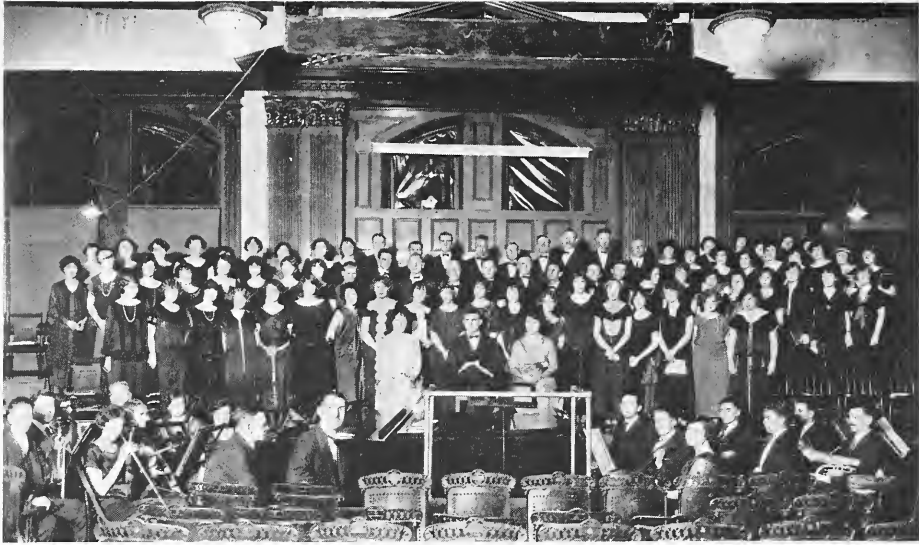

Morn comes, with crimson bars of light that leap
 To gild the buttes and tint the east with fire.
 The lark's song echoes clear and sweet and strong
 Upon the morning air; the range grass gleams
 And glitters with its diamond-tinted dew,
 And all the great, wide prairie springs to life.

Again he sees the straggling herd move on
 In broken line, and in his dreams he seems
 To feel the bronco's steady, tireless pace
 That carries him upon his last long drive,
 Which ends in sleep along the Sunset Trail.

MUSIC

UNIVERSITY CHORUS AND ORCHESTRA

CHORUS

The Music Department may be proud of the achievements of the University Chorus during the past year. Under the directorship of Mr. Knapp, the Chorus, accompanied by the University Orchestra produced two oratorios. The annual performance of Handel's Messiah occurred on December 6th, in keeping with the holiday season. The excellent solo work of Mrs. Agnes Clark Glaister of Denver, Miss Vera Neely and Canon West of Laramie added greatly to the performance. On June 3rd, as an attraction of Commencement week, the Chorus made another public appearance, producing on this occasion Mendelssohn's beautiful oratorio, Elijah. Mrs. Margaret McIntosh Boice of Cheyenne, Mr. Elwin Smith of Denver, Miss Vera Neely and Mr. Knapp were the capable soloists in this performance.

The renditions of both of these famous oratorios were admirably done and Mr. Knapp is to be congratulated on his excellent work.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

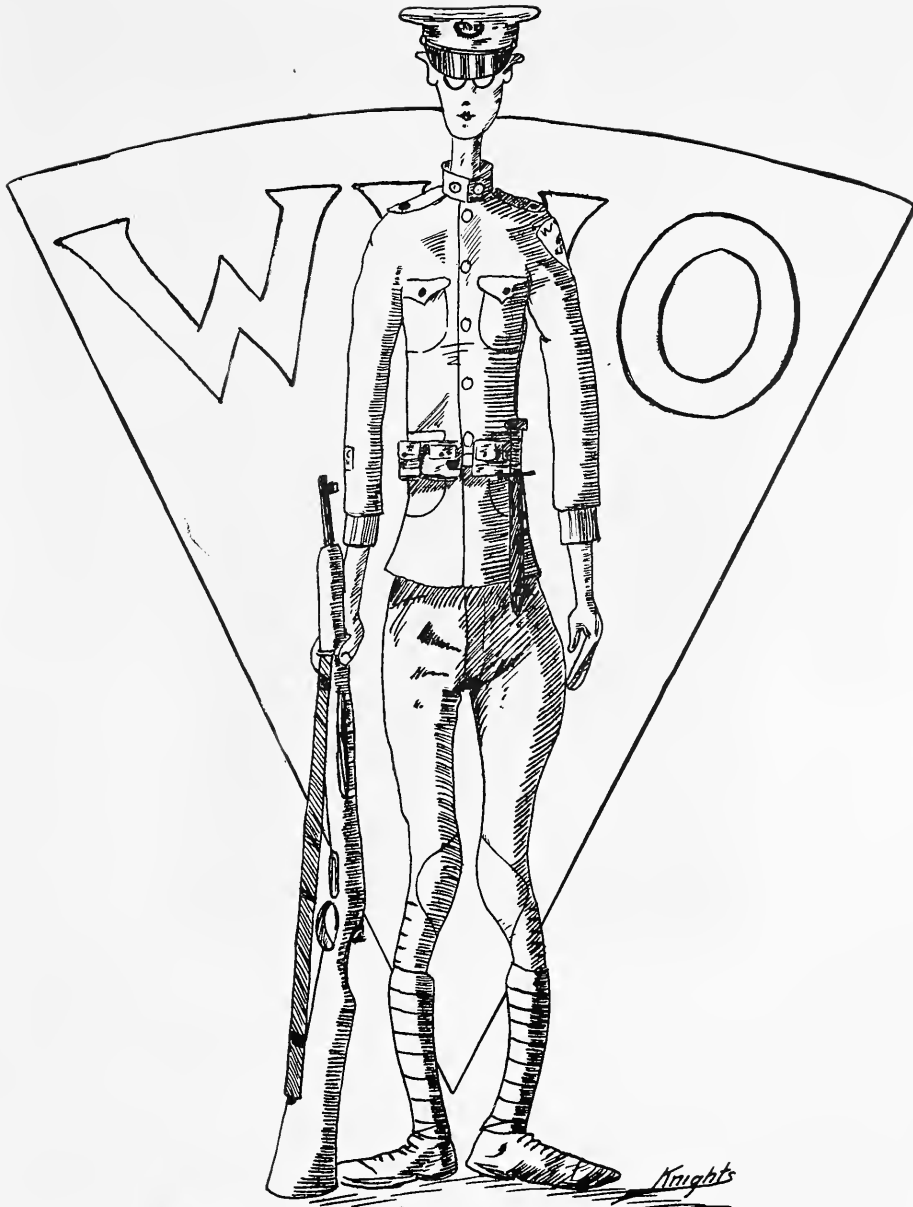

GLEE CLUB

Under the able leadership of Miss Vera M. Neely, Supervisor of Public School Music, and Voice Teacher, an interesting Glee Club of girls was formed during the latter part of January. Meetings were held weekly and shortly after organization this group made their first public appearance in assembly, singing a number of selections with ease and beauty of interpretation.

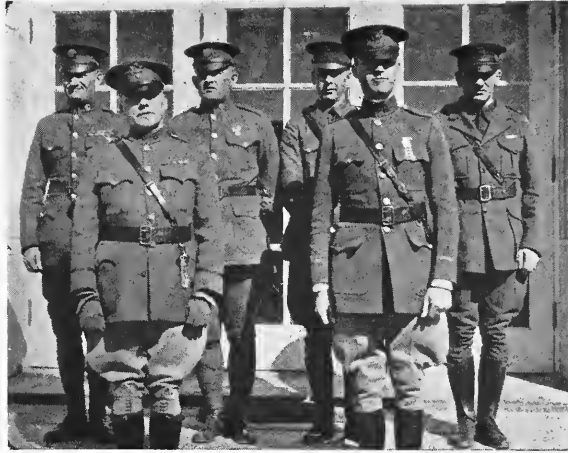

Though somewhat tardy in organizing, the work accomplished was beneficial not only to the members, but to the student body as well, and everyone is looking forward with pleasure to the appearance of this organization on the campus in the fall.

THE BRANDING IRON

The Branding Iron, which experienced the most successful year of its existence during the year of 1924-25, was founded in 1898 as a literary magazine under the name of The Wyoming Student. In 1913 it became a weekly newspaper, and since that time has grown and prospered with the increase in the student body until it is one of the best student papers in the Rocky Mountain region. The paper is the official organ of the A. S. U. W. and it has a strong influence in forming campus opinion as well as giving accurate accounts of campus activities.

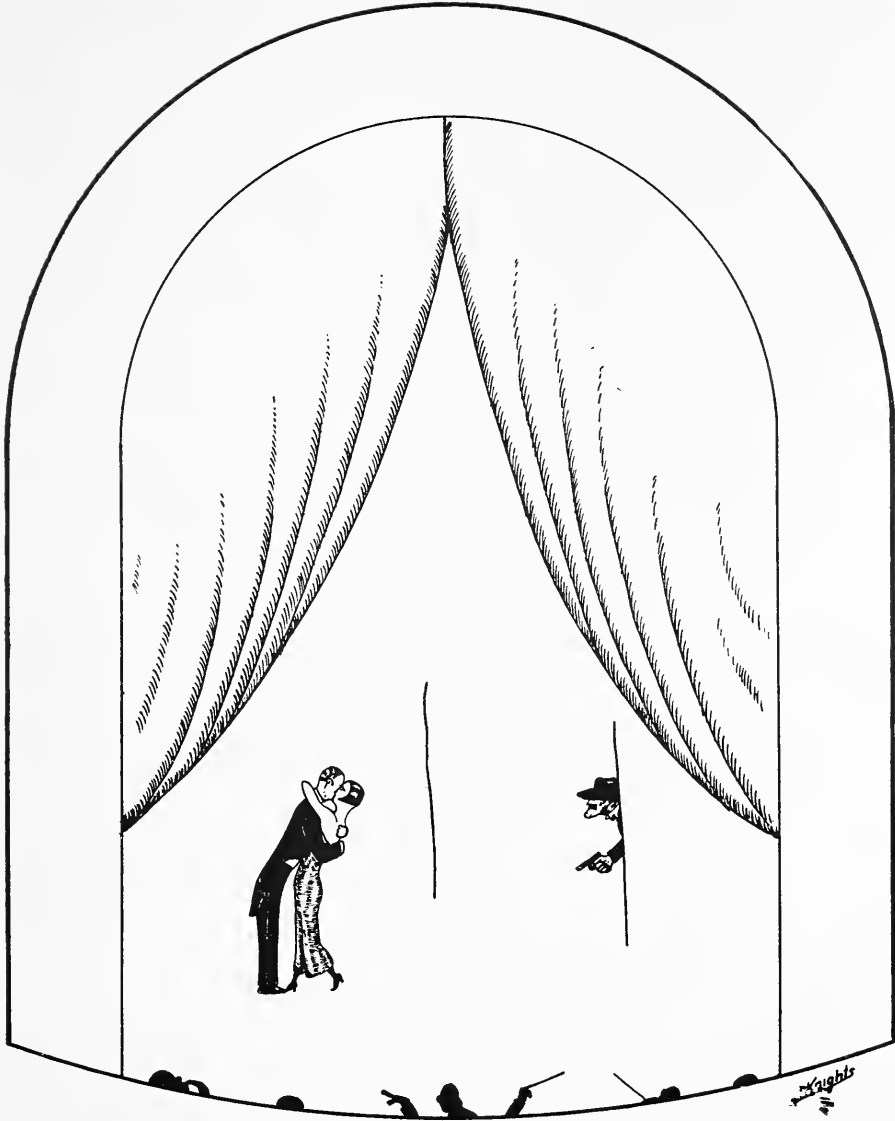

THE S. C. A. PUBLICATIONS

"W" BOOK

This volume, which has been nicknamed the Freshman Bible, was on hand at the beginning of the current school year and was distributed free gratis among the students. It contained much that was valuable to the new students who were as yet unlearned in the ways of university life. This year's volume was the sixth, and with Homer Fair as editor was the best that has been produced at the University of Wyoming in recent years.

THE UNIVERSITY DIRECTORY

Homer Fair also edited this booklet, which was very popular and had a record-breaking sale, because it gave all the addresses and phone numbers of those connected with the University, their home residences, fraternity affiliations, and the officers of the different campus organizations. This volume was much larger than any previous edition and its growth is typical of the expansion of the University.

Judging teams representing the Agricultural College competed at the Kansas City Royal and International Livestock Expositions in November. Twelve teams at Kansas City and twenty teams at Chicago, each representing a state or Canadian Agricultural College, made up the competition. While Wyoming's teams did not win these contests, they made an excellent record as livestock judges and places above many older and larger institutions. The trip afforded an excellent opportunity for members of the teams to become familiar with farming practices and livestock methods in Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

The Junior Livestock Judging Team represented the Agricultural College at the Western National Stock Show at Denver, Colorado, January 17, 1925. This is a preparatory contest for the larger shows which are held in the fall. Wyoming's team was first in placing all classes of livestock, best judge of horses, breeding bulls and breeding hogs. The two best teams from the corn belt, Kansas and Nebraska, as well as Colorado and Wyoming Agricultural Colleges, were represented. Wyoming stood third in total number of points, with only 37 points out of 4,000 below the team which won first. The creditable showing at Denver makes Wyoming's team serious contenders for high honors at the big shows next fall.

LARAMIE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM
CHAMPIONS OF WYOMING

Laramie High School repeated its performance of two years ago and won the state basket ball title in the Eighth Annual High School basketball tournament held at the new Wyoming gymnasium in March.

The little warriors of the red and white were one of the lightest teams in the tourney and were classified in the light-weight division. They waded through this class without much competition. Rock Springs was the only hard team Laramie had to play in class B, and it took Laramie two games before Rock Springs was eliminated from the tourney, no other team in the light-weight class being able to hang up a victory over the Miners.

Laramie then played Worland for the state championship and walloped the up-state boys 25 to 13. The final game was fast and interesting, but the outcome was never in doubt after the first three minutes of play.

With the state championship goes the invitation to the National Interscholastic tourney, which is held at Chicago every year under the auspices of the University of Chicago. Laramie journeyed to Chicago and was the first Wyoming team to win a game at the interscholastic meet. The Laramie team was the smallest team at Chicago and finished fifth in the national tourney. This means that Laramie High School was one of the five best high school teams in the United States this year. Only state champions and interstate champions are invited to the national tourney.

WORLAND HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM
CHAMPIONS OF CLASS A

In Chicago, Laramie defeated Miami, Florida; Durham, North Carolina; and lost to El Reno, Oklahoma, the team that finished second in the national.

The team was coached by Les Crawford, a former Wyoming athlete. Three of the first squad graduate this year and dopsters are already figuring that Laramie High has a good chance of copping off the title again next year.

The Worland basketball team waded through class A in the tournament without a defeat, but lost the championship to Laramie by a score of 25 to 13. This is the second time that Laramie and Worland have played for the state title. The other time the two teams battled it out for state honors Worland was victorious.

Coached by Emmett, one of the old stand-bys of the state tourney, the Worland school presented a fast-going and hard-working basketball team this year, and were favored to win their class, and in many cases to win the state title. Harkins, captain of the Worland team, was the mainstay of the team and was high-point man in the tourney. Most of the Worland team work was built around this man, and when Laramie covered him so closely in the final game the Worland ship of state went on the rocks.

Worland was crippled by the loss of Mileski, their center, who was injured in one of the tourney games and was out of the finals. If this man had been in it is quite possible that the score might have been closer. The finals, however, were Laramie's, and the Red and White was not to be denied.

WHEN COYBOYS JEST

TENDERFOOT

I rode a horse today and wore
My nice, new puttees, and I bore
Myself with dignity the while—
But, lo, these whisp'ring cowboys smile
And close their eyes in grotesque winks:
A coarse, uncultured lot, methinks,
That cannot understand this fine
Yet somewhat shrinking soul of mine.
Crude creatures of a plane below,
They do not know—they do not know.

SEASONED

I saw it leave the stage today—
A tenderfoot. Well, I must say,
I do not blame the boys much now
For what they did to me. I vow
This nice, new thing some points to give,
And, maybe, then I'll let It live.
Bah! Soft, white face and fat conceit,
Just thinks Its knowledge is complete.
Look at those clothes, the little hat—
Say, on the square, was I like that?

BRONCHO BUSTER REPORTEE

You top-rail roosters think it fun
To set up there all safe and run
Your line of blab, and watch me take
This here old coffin-head to break.
"Thumb him!" say you: well, talk's cheap
From bluffers 'fraid to ride a sheep.
Go on and josh! I notice you
Blab muchly more than what you do.

See that! He's quit his pitchin'; he
Has found that I his master be.
Tomorrow he will be that tame
A kid can ride him. Jes' the same,
I don't see none of your loud set
Who's stuck to take my place jes' yet.
You give advice, you cheap sports, you,
And that's 'bout all you ever do.

SORORITIES

SMELL OF SAGE

Oh, the old red sun is risin' and the air is clean and fine,
 With jes' a little chill that tingles thro',
 And starts your thoughts to millin' that the fire of the cook
 Was made jes' sort o' specially fer you.
 But what jes' makes me glad I simply am alive,
 My very heart with kindness sweet adornin',
 Is that keen and bracin' scent that drifts across the flats—
 The smell of the sagebrush in the mornin'.

Have traveled many trails in this camp you call the world,
 And lived a life as rough as rough could be;
 Am jes' a plain old puncher with all a puncher's faults,
 But still there's things that always come to me
 At that there time o' wakin'; they be thoughts so sweet and fine,
 Which no artist or no poet could go scornin',
 When I catch that keen, clean scent that drifts across the flats—
 The smell of the sagebrush in the mornin'.

When I cross the Great Divide, and my outfit will no more
 See me around its wagons and its fires,
 I jes' would like to say 'fore I ups and drifts away,
 There's simply jes' one thing my heart desires:
 Put me where the sun comes up, to ride the western range,
 And all the land with gladness fine adornin',
 So my ghost kin sort o' come and sniff that sweet perfume—
 The smell of the sagebrush in the mornin'.

PHI KAPPA PHI

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi elects its student members from among the upper one-fifth of the Senior Class as judged on a basis of scholarship. This society is unique among national honor societies in electing members from any college of the University—the criterion being excellence in scholastic achievement, whether it be in the sciences or in the arts. Thirty-eight chapters are in existence in leading universities and colleges in the United States. At the Wyoming Chapter, established in 1922, two elections of student members are held each year—one after the grades of the fall term are available, the other after the close of the winter term.

The following students were elected on December 16, 1924:

Charles Harold Gilbert, Agriculture
Harold Wayne Hobbs, Engineering
Edward Pillsbury Pearson, Liberal Arts
Alice Marie Spreng, Liberal Arts
Herbert Brookhart Woodman, Liberal Arts

The following students were elected on April 9, 1925:

Iron Skull is the Honorary Sophomore Society, members for which are chosen at the close of their freshman year and initiated in the fall of their sophomore year.

It is the purpose of Iron Skull to further University traditions, Athletics and Scholarship upon the campus, and it was with this in mind that the members tackled the seating proposition in the new gymnasium. They were on the job at every game and kept the women and men separated. The great improvement in the cheering merited this movement.

THE OLD COWBOY'S LAMENT

The range's filled up with farmers and there's fences
ev'rywhere,

A painted house 'most ev'ry quarter mile;
They're raisin' blooded cattle and plantin' sorted seed,
And puttin' on a painful lot o' style.

There hain't no grass to speak of and the water holes
are gone,

The wire of the farmer holds 'em tight;
There's little use to law 'em and little use to kick,
And mighty sight less use there is to fight.

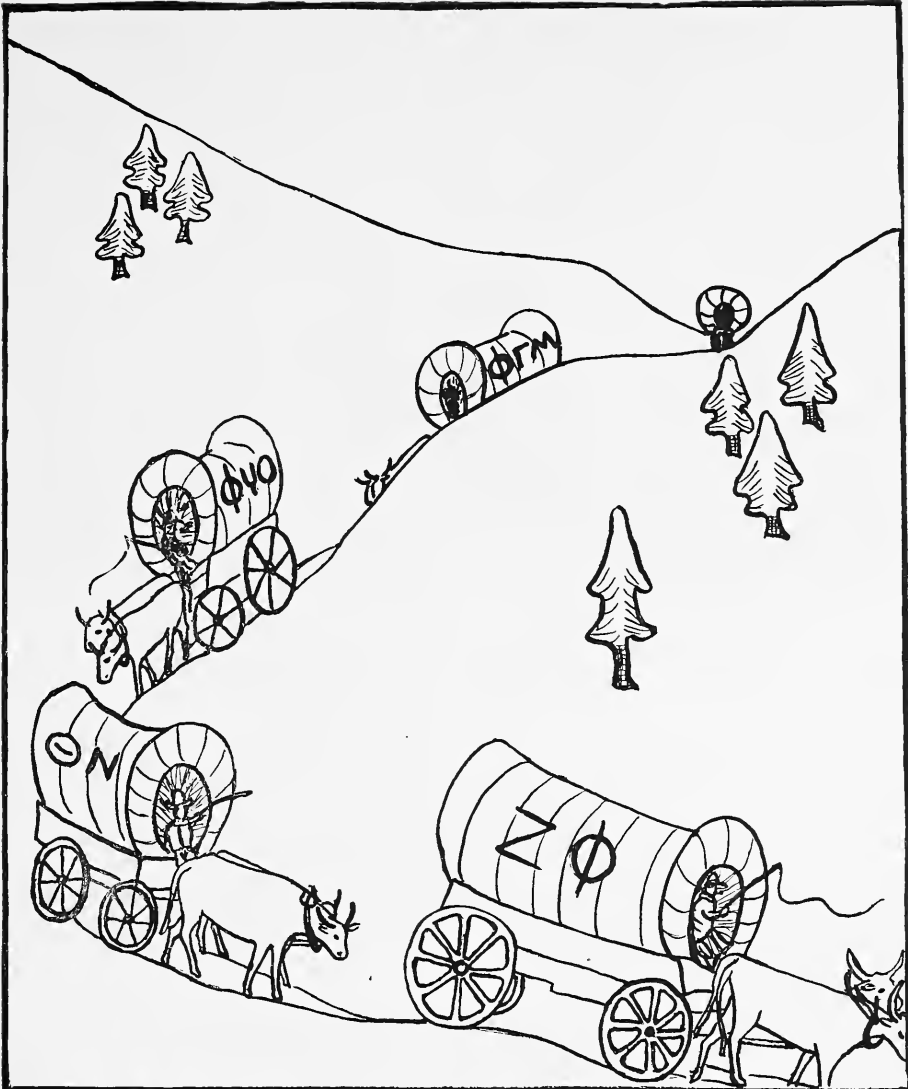

There's them coughin' separaters and their dirty, dusty
crews,

And wagons runnin' over with the grain;
With smoke a-driftin' upward and writin' on the air,
A story that to me is mighty plain.

The wolves have left the country and the long-horns
are no more,

And all the game worth shootin' at is gone;
And it's time fer me to foller, 'cause I'm only in the way,

And I've got to be a-movin'—movin' on.

The Forward Echelon is an Honorary Military Fraternity, organized this year with sixteen cadet officers as charter members. The purpose of this organization is to preserve and develop among its members the essential qualities of good and efficient officers; to prepare them, as educated men, to take a more active part in the military affairs of the community; and, above all, to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of the United States. These principles are along the same lines as those set forth by the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, to which organization an application for a charter has been sent by the local organization.

A. S. U. W. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Harold Gilbert President
Arthur Taliaferro Vice-President
Eleanor Chatterton Secretary

The Executive Committee of the Student Body began the year under very discouraging financial conditions, but by careful planning and management they have succeeded in making a very substantial reduction in the Student Body deficit.

In addition to reducing the debt, the Committee, through the help and cooperation of each member, has been able to sponsor all branches of Athletics and Student Activities and, in addition, successfully sponsor the Conference Boxing and Wrestling Meet at Wyoming.

It can be said that, for the A. S. U. W. Executive Committee, 1924-25 has been full of activity and success.

The Associated Women Students have been organized upon our campus since the spring of 1921, having passed through several phases of growth. It is now a member of the National Organization of the Associated Women Students made up of the A. W. S. existing upon practically every College and University campus in the United States. Every woman student upon enrolling in the University becomes ipso facto a member of the A. W. S. The object of this association is three-fold: To regulate all matters pertaining to the student life of its members which do not fall under the jurisdiction of the faculty nor Associated Students; to further in every way the spirit of unity among the women; and be a medium by which the social standards of the University can be made and kept high. Throughout the year mass meetings are held and many social affairs are given.

This is a new organization on the campus this year. It was organized by seven girls who are looking forward to future work in the Home Economics Extension service. It is sponsored by Miss Rokahr—the State Home Demonstration Leader for Wyoming.

Actual practice in this kind of work has already been done. During Honey Week, November 16 to 22, the members gave two demonstrations out in Albany County and one in Laramie.

An extensive study of the work is taken up at each meeting. Members of the extension service are the speakers.

 H. Newton Secretary-Treasurer

The Ag Club is composed of agricultural students who are interested in the modern problems of agriculture. Regular bi-monthly meetings are held at which eminent speakers are asked to discuss interesting agricultural problems with the Club. The Club gives considerable financial assistance to the stock-judging teams, which compete at the International and Western stock-judging contests, and has fostered a banquet in honor of each team and its coach. Last October a barbecue was put over with the cooperation of other organizations on the campus and the Ag faculty; and it will be continued in the future as a feature of homecoming week. The Club's social calendar includes the annual mid-winter dance given at the University gym and the famous barn dance given at the University stock farm in the spring term. The Club is rapidly growing stronger and is becoming an important factor in the Agricultural College as a financial backing for the stock-judging teams and as a means of presenting new and interesting phases of agriculture to the student farmer.

The Irrational Club—alias the Math Club—is one of the youngest departmental associations on the campus, having been organized in the first term of this school year. In its bi-weekly meetings the Club refutes the prevalent idea that math is nothing but a dull conglomeration of vague theories, incomprehensible formulas, and bothersome problems by presenting the interesting and more popular side of this science. The official language of this group is that of the great mathematicians. All math students are eligible to membership.

Le Cercle Francais is a club whose members consist of advanced French students. Its purpose is to furnish an opportunity for the students to study the French language, life and customs.

The meetings are held once a month. At each reunion a program is presented, consisting of short plays, music, or speeches. All conversation is carried on in French, and in this way greater fluency is acquired in the speaking of the language.

Standing—Cordes, Preis, Thoeming, Butscher, Gebert, Brown, Rockwell, Svenson, Munson.

This club was organized for a combined purpose: To stimulate interest in German Literature and Art, and to acquire fluency in speech by conversation, in a manner that cannot be obtained in the classroom. The club was organized January 12. The meetings, held once a month, are devoted to short plays, talks on literature, music or stories. Any student or non-student who can converse in German may become a member.

Top Row—Southworth, O'Reilly, Cossitt, Crawford, Butscher, Wood, Varela, Gebert, Creswell, Finnerty, Seyfarth, Dickinson.

LA CHARLA

Jean Tompkins President
 Martha Preis Secretary
 Irene Murphey Treasurer

La Charla, a club made up of those students who are interested in the language and customs of the Spanish-speaking countries, has had a very worthwhile year. Under the guidance of the new constitution and through the splendid help of the advisors, the members have nearly all taken part in some activity of the club. The meetings consisted of plays, cross-word puzzles, poems, songs, and talks by the various members.

The final achievement of the Club was the production of "Juan de las Vinas" by Hartzenbush, which was given in assembly during the spring term.

THE EDUCATION CLUB

Percy Ingham President
 Arletta Wyant Vice-President
 Clyde W. Kurtz Secretary-Treasurer

The Education Club was organized in 1922 for the purpose of fostering good fellowship among the future Wyoming teachers in order that the schools of the State might become more closely united and look to the University as the center of our educational system. Membership is open to all students in the College of Education. Meetings are held once a month, at which time the members get together for short social functions or to listen to talks by those who are experts in the field of education.

To effect a closer contact with the progress of engineering throughout the United States, as well as to enhance a fraternal spirit among the engineering students, application was made for a Student Chapter to the American Society of Civil Engineers, which is the oldest of all American engineering societies or associations. This request was approved by the Board of Direction, April 20, 1925, which action entitles the student members to many privileges and publications of the parent society and also to wear the red shield which is known the world over to professional engineers and others.

STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Ethlyn Christensen President
 Alice Spreng Secretary
 Homer Fair Treasurer

The Student Christian Association made its first appearance on the University of Wyoming campus this year. In the past the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. have functioned as separate organizations; the S. C. A. is but an expression on the part of the members of these two former organizations to work together so that they may better achieve the ideals for which they stand. The relationship with the national Y. M. and Y. W. are still maintained, their national secretaries still visit the campus and are ever ready to give of their inspiration in the furtherance of the work.

The S. C. A. is still in the stage of experiment, the Christian Associations of other colleges of America are watching the experiment with deep concern, but the venture has proceeded far enough to assure those who are interested that it will succeed.

Students who are interested in the life of Christ and are anxious to hold Him before the students as the ideal way of life, who are willing to sacrifice time and energy to see that He is presented through religious meetings, Bible discussion groups, church relationships, deputation teams, and the inviting of Christian statesmen to the campus to inspire them and their fellow students to higher standards of living, are cordially invited to associate themselves with the S. C. A.

The past year has witnessed the consummation of many large and imposing engineering projects, as well as the inception and promotion of many more whose inherent ideas and purposes are both interesting and novel. In fact, the magnitude of these engineering enterprises has involved the public funds, and thereby public interest, to a greater extent than formerly when private endeavor alone was dominant in the material development of our natural resources. Furthermore, the urgency of adequate conservation of public wealth has marvelously stimulated attention to its proper protection. The future is promising.

The Engineering Society has been kept in touch with the trend of material events and with the new and perfected methods and processes current in the engineering world. Both by films and lectures, the student's vision has been widened and an outlook beyond the purely academic life projected. The meetings have proven their helpfulness in the reaction and interest manifested.

POTTER LAW CLUB

Harold Erickson President
 William Garbutt Secretary-Treasurer

The Potter Law Club is an organization of the law students and faculty and is named in honor of Chief Justice Potter. The Club was founded by E. F. Albertsworth, the law school's first dean. Under his leadership many interesting moot court cases were argued and lectures given by prominent lawyers.

In the present year, with Dean Driscoll's leadership, the club has argued some very interesting cases and has been favored by very interesting lectures given by members of the local bar and other prominent attorneys.

THE GUN AND PEN CLUB

The Vocational Students organized the Gun and Pen Club two years ago. The object of the Club was to give the ex-service men a chance to get acquainted with each other and to more rapidly acquire the school spirit. The Gun and Pen Club has not been very active the past year, due to the fact that most of the ex-service men have finished school.

The members of the Gun and Pen Club are rapidly completing their preparation for life's work and through the training given them by the Government are again enabled to make good for themselves and their country in time of peace as they more than made good in time of war.

The Nebraska Club is an organization whose membership is made up of students who reside in Nebraska. The purpose of this organization is advancement along literary and social lines.

In honor of George G. Neihardt, Nebraska's poet-laureate, a part of his poem "Should We Forget":

I wonder if the skies would be so blue,
 Or grass so kindly green as 'twas of old;
 Or would there be such freshness in the dew
 When purple mornings blossom into gold.
 I wonder would the sudden song of birds,
 Thrilling the storm-hushed forest, dripping wet
 After a June shower, be as idle words.
 Should we forget.

The Episcopalian Club is an organization of University students who are affiliated with the Episcopal Church. Canon S. E. West, who came as Student Pastor in the fall, has ably served the Club and has brought it to its present stage of successful activity.

One of the features of the Club during the past year has been the weekly Vesper service on Sunday afternoons conducted by Canon West. The Club also publishes "The Chimes," a weekly bulletin containing announcements and news items of interest to members. Delegates from the Club were sent to the Colorado Episcopal Student Conference held at Denver during the winter.

Eta Chapter of Kappa Phi was established at Wyoming in 1919. Its purpose is to unite Methodist girls into fellowship and service, and to promote student welfare at the University. One social meeting, such as teas, taffy pulls, hikes, and one meeting for discussion of topics interesting to girls of this club, are held each month. The membership has increased a great deal this year, including many faithful and enthusiastic workers, and Kappa Phi feels as though it has had a successful year.

THE CATTLEMAN'S NEIGHBOR

Fer twenty year I've bached it here,
Good range and water, and no near
By neighbors, till I sees one day
Some fool sod-pounder that-o'-way
Had went and slapped a homestead on
My best hay ground, and even gone
And fenced the crick, that's what he'd done.
Fenced my crick, the son-of-a-gun!
Jes' see him once, not much I care,
I jes' stay here and he stays there:
Of friendship we don't make no sign,
He goes his way and I go mine.
Then, saddlin' up, one day I hear
A woman's callin', sweet and clear.
There hain't a girl in miles o' me,
What does she want, who kin she be?
"Yes, ma'am, I owns this ranch—nice day—
A-huh—a-hem—what's that you say?"
By jakes! she was the settler what
Had gone and filed on my hay plot!
"Brother helps me, and," says she,
"Why don't you act more neighborly?"
And then I looks at her a while
And, 'fore I knows it, starts to smile,
A-thinkin' stranger things come true
Than bach in love, age forty-two.
You come right in, unhitch, don't go,
She's gittin' supper; fer, you know,
She filed one claim and then, by gee!
The preacher helps her locate me.

JUNIOR PROM

The big event of the year was the Junior Prom, given by the class of '26 for the graduating class. The affair was held in the new Gym and was the first formal to be given there. Shaded lights were the chief decorations. Blue, yellow and rose lights alternately threw their gleam upon the dancers, creating mysterious and fascinating effects. Lattice fences of white, above which peeped the roses that graced each tiny tete-a-tete table, added to the general effectiveness and served to screen off the tables where the delicious supper was served later in the evening. The programs were of the University colors, being made of Tapa cloth which was ordered especially for the occasion from the Hawaiian Islands. The Grand March was led by Mr. George Seyfarth, President of the Junior Class, and Miss Pearle Jones, and as the guests were led through the various formations under the ever-changing lights, many remarked that they had never seen a more beautiful dance. Guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Crane, Dean and Mrs. Driscoll, Professor and Mrs. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Woodford, Miss Bertha White, Mr. Oscar Peterson and the class of '25.

The Wyoming Collegians furnished the music for the dancing, which continued until 1 o'clock.

Due to the untiring effort of the members of the Junior Class and the whole-hearted cooperation from everyone concerned, there is no doubt that the 1925 Junior Prom will go down as one of the loveliest affairs in the history of the University.

THE CO-ED BALL

The annual co-ed ball is a tradition at Wyoming which was successfully carried out this year. Invitations were sent out and plans were made long before the eventful night. There were frenzied calls for "dress suits"—and taxies, corsages and "dates."

The old gymnasium was not decorated for the occasion—the dancers made a more picturesque scene than any other decorations could have done. Fairy and prince, pauper and princess danced together regardless of caste or color. Colorful Spanish dancers set off the advantage of the Indian maids and Japanese geisha girls. One girl remarked that she had never seen such a "crowd of good-looking men" as were there that night. Boys in dress suits, sport clothes, and sailor costumes led the fairer sex around the floor. What mattered if they carried small scented handkerchiefs and stopped every now and then to powder their dainty noses?

Prizes were awarded, and Violet Berthelsen and Bernice Wells, who represented an old Civil War couple, were chosen as the prettiest couple on the floor, while Amelia Kershisnik and Dorothy King, as "Si and Maria," received the second prize for the cleverest couple.

MISS BILLIE MURRAY
Elected "Queen of Engineers"

THE ENGINEERS' BALL

The Engineers outdid all previous records in the planning and execution of the 1925 Engineers' ball, which is always one of the big events of the college year.

The beauty of the new Gym was further enhanced by the use of vari-colored lights, the colors of which were reflected in many tiny mirrors, which covered a huge revolving ball suspended from the center of the ceiling. The effect was that of a fairyland with a myriad of ever-changing colors cast upon the floor. Many brown and yellow pennants inscribed "Engineers—U. of W." were strung across the ceiling of the gym while at one end a constantly changing electrical sign "Engineers" and another sign at the other end "Wyoming" added greatly to the lighting effect. The favors were attractive little celluloid slide rules with the names of the dances cleverly designated and named. Tiny holiday hats of all colors and descriptions, serpentine and whistle balloons contributed a festive air. At midnight delicious refreshments were served.

The Engineers announced that Miss Billie Murry had been elected as their Queen for the year 1924-25. She was presented with a lovely silver vase of sweet peas, upon which was inscribed "Queen of the Engineers—University of Wyoming, '24-'25."

BLACK AND WHITE BALL

The Black and White masquerade, given by the Senior Class, was one of the most successful social events of the year. There was the usual crowd of maids and waiters, mournful or gleaming according to their taste; chorus girls in black and white ruffles, gay gentlemen in dashing attire, and most popular of all, many cross-word puzzles. The first prize went to Herbert Woodman and Crete Wood as cross-word puzzles, with Dr. and Mrs. Knight winning the consolation prize. When the evening was half over the winning puzzles submitted in the cross-word puzzles contest were thrown on the screen. The winners were presented with cards bearing a highly gilded $15 ($15 in gold, you know). George Guy was the lucky winner of this contest. Dancing continued until 1:30 o'clock. During the evening an ice and cakes were served.

THE FORTY-NINERS' BALL

The traditional forty-niners' ball, which is given annually by the Sophomore Class was, as usual, very picturesque and entertaining. Bearded miners, brilliant dance-hall girls and pale-faced professional gamblers were among the hilarious guests. The roar of the '38's was sadly missed, but cowboy yells aided the music materially. Dancing was by no means the only entertainment. Beneath bright lamps were seated groups of men with tense faces trying their luck at cards. Others were crowded about the faro game. Bartenders were busy setting out drinks at the long bar for the thirsty ones. Late in the evening prizes were awarded to the ones wearing the best costumes. First prize was given to Miss Lucille Moon, who was picturesquely garbed in buckskin riding costume, high-heel boots and broad Stetson. Miss Moon is a Freshman. Mr. Woodman, a Senior, received a prize also. He appeared in much-worn overalls, gunnysacks for shoes and long white hair and beard. He was truly a Jed Smith with his small pack on his back and the appearance of having trekked long miles through virgin forests in search of new lands.

The present Sophomore Class is to be commended for carrying out this college tradition so well.

FRATERNITY DANCES

Among the important social events of the year were the fraternity parties which were this year exceedingly numerous in number and exceptionally brilliant. Four fraternities entertained at formals—Sigma Alpha Epsilon, February 11; Gamma Zeta, February 20; Sigma Nu, February 21, and Delta Delta Delta, April 3. All of these dances were unusually beautiful and successful. S. A. E. gave its formal at the Connor Hotel; Gamma Zeta held hers at the Gymnasium; Sigma Nu secured the new gymnasium, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and Delta Delta Delta entertained also at the Connor. Other important affairs included the Pi Beta Phi May dance, the Sigma Nu Chanticleer party, and early in the year the various pleague parties.

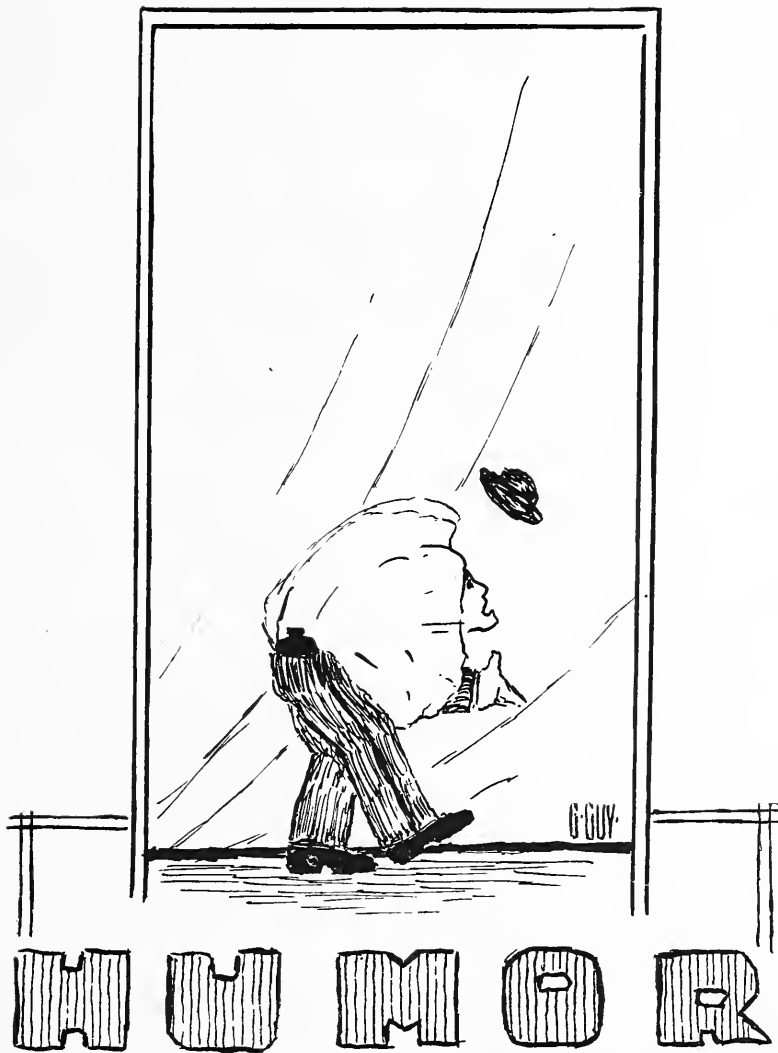

The fraternities are to be congratulated upon the excellence of their social functions, which undoubtedly add much to the social life of the campus.

IRON SKULL SKID

The Iron Skull Skid again proved to be one of the outstanding events of the year. The old gym was decorated for the occasion in Red and Green, the Iron Skull Colors. A huge replica of the Skull and Crossbones was suspended from the ceiling and the winking red and green eyes of the skull served to add mystery and to complete the decorative effects. At one end of the gym was located the "No Hope Cemetery," where a tombstone had been erected over the Wyoming Jinx, born long ago, dead forever.

Excellent music was furnished by the Kappa Sig Orchestra. Punch and mints were served and they, too, were in the colors of the fraternity, thus carrying out even further the emblems of Iron Skull. During the evening Miss Josephine Delatour, president of the organization, announced the list of Freshmen who will next year become members of Iron Skull. They were given their bids amid the applause of the audience, who, no doubt, were hoping that the new members would as faithfully carry out the traditions of the organization, especially with regard to the Iron Skull Skid, as the members in the class of '27. Dancing lasted until 12 o'clock, after which the eyes of the Skull and Crossbones closed on another successful Iron Skull Skid.

MUD AND MIRACLES

Was ridin' down a-past his place,
And then I thinks I'll 'low
To sort o' pass the time o' day
And speak a friendly, "How!"

He's mussin' 'round there in the mud,
A little dam he's got;
He 'lows to make a cacti flat
Into a garden spot.

I says to him, "The land's no good;
Fer farmin' she don't win."
But all he does is slop around
And kind o' funny grin.

I says, "The land's jes useful fer
Some cows to raise and range";
But he jes' grins and hollers back,
"There's goin' to be a change."

He's mussin' 'round there in the mud,
A little dam he's got;
He 'lows to make a cacti flat
Into a garden spot.

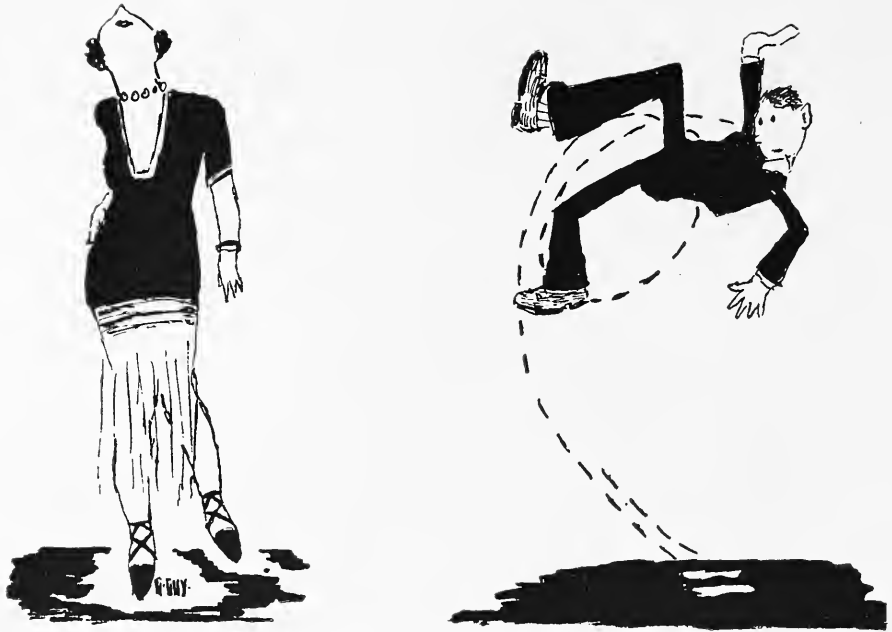

Hosts Rodeo Luncheon, Eighteenth State Legislature, State Capitol Building, Cheyenne, Wyoming, February 21st, 1925.
 Left to Right—Frank O. Horton, Dude Wrangler, Senate; R. H. Alcorn, Horse Wrangler, House; A. W. McCollough, Top Cutter, House; J. C. Underwood, Head Boss, House; John M. Snyder, Timekeeper and Lord of the Exchequer; W. W. Daley, Straw Boss, Senate.

Cowboy Hosts and Cowgirl Wranglers, Rodeo Luncheon, State Legislature, 1925.

WOMEN

The beauty judge gets knocked for what the eminent pen artist, John Held, Jr., might term "a loop."

Irate Father—I never heard of such a nerve. A man in your position asking for my daughter's hand!

Suitor—Oh, my position isn't so bad. I have a window on one side and the door on the other.

* * * * *

Fashion magazines remind us
Ladies' pockets are the bunk,
So that dates and dances find us
Loaded down with all their junk.

* * * * *

"If Cleopatra had lived in a sorority house the Roman Empire would have been saved."

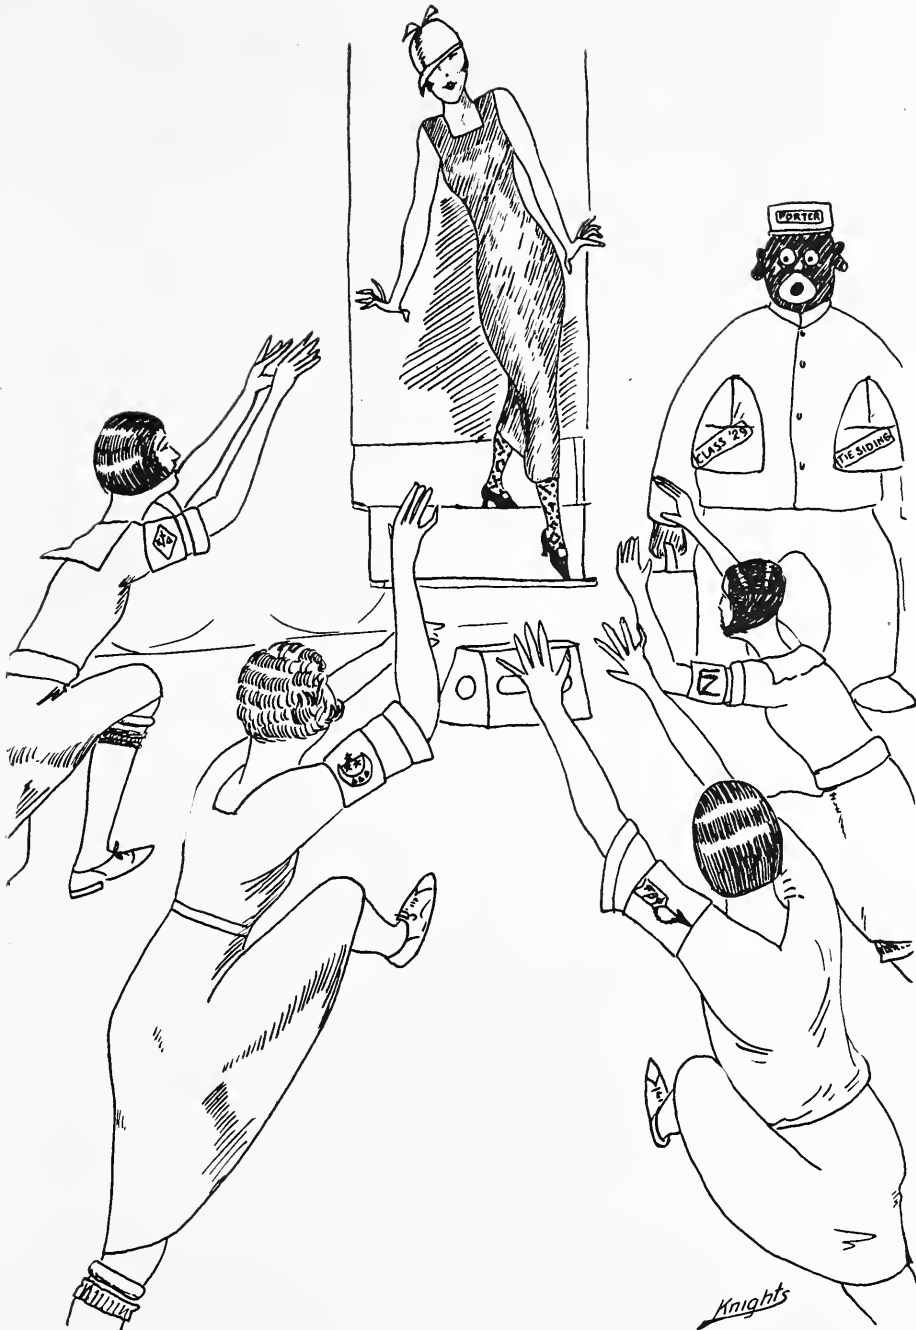

"How is that!"

"Oh, the house-mother would have sent Anthony home at 10:30!"

* * * * *

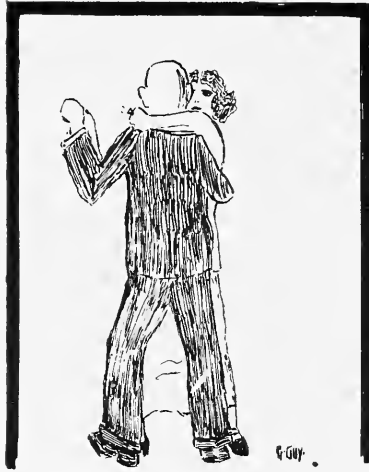

First Co-Ed—They took Dick out of the game for unnecessary roughness.

Second Co-Ed—How like Dick—many's the time I've sent him home for the same thing.

SORORITIES

HEARD AT THE HOUSES

ΠΒΦ—Joe gave me a drink at the Prom last night. Did I do wrong?
ΑΤΩ—You probably did.

Oh! Oh!

ΔΔΔ—Why did Marge move to that questionable hotel?
ΣΑΕ—Oh, I guess she needed the change.

Καππα Σιγ—Slippy was held up by two men last night.
Γαμμα Ζετα—Where?
Καππα Σιγ—All the way home.

Σιγμα Νου—Why wouldn't you let me keep that date with you Friday?
Καππα Δελτα—I was helping father around the house.
Σιγμα Νου—Gosh, the old boy drunk again.

Howja like to be a pledge at the Pi Phi House? Two visiting sisters get cooled off

* * * * *

“That girl reminds me of a leaky roof.”
 “How’s that?”
 “She needs a shingle.”

* * * * *

Riddle—What is it that walks, talks, sleeps and eats, and still it is dead?
 Answer—A dumb co-ed.

* * * * *

“How come Minnie lost her swell job?”
 “Oh, she got to imitating a revolver.”
 “What do you mean.”
 “Why, she loaded her face with powder and cocked her eye at all the boys,
 so the boss fired her.”

* * * * *

It was the first night out of Laramie and it was getting cold. Erma Stevens, a member of the famous Wyoming Debating Team, felt the need of more covers, and, reaching up into the upper berth, she seized the warm, woolly blanket and began to pull.

“What do you want?” growled a gruff voice.
 “Oh, I—I wanted a blanket!”
 “Well, let go of my nightshirt and I’ll give you one.”

* * * * *

MEOW-W-W-W-W

Tri-Delt—Is he a nice boy?
 Pi Phi—No, I think you’ll like him.

FROM THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Dear Miss Adsit:

Please excuse Johnny today. He will not be at school. He is acting as time-keeper for his father. Last night you gave him this example, if a field is four miles square how long will it take a man walking three miles an hour, to walk two and a half times around it? Johnny ain't no man, so we had to send his Daddy. They left early this morning and my husband said they ought to be back late tonight though it would be hard goin'. Dear Mum, please make the mix problem about ladies, as my husband can't afford to lose a day's work. I don't have no time to loaf but I can spare a day off occasionally better than my husband kin.

EAT WHERE THE
TOWNSPEOPLE EAT

WHEN YOU GO TO A STRANGE CITY one of the hardest things to find is a good place to eat and be safe. Lots of people drop in any old place, get stung, feel sore at themselves all day, and half the pleasure of the trip is gone.

IF YOU ARE PARTICULAR and appreciate good food, always ask the townspeople where they eat. They have every opportunity to know what places are good places and what are bad ones, and where they eat you can depend upon it being safe.

I AM WILLING TO TAKE MY CHANCES on your patronage if you ask any good judge of food in Cheyenne where to eat.

OUR CLIENTELE is made up very largely of home folks, who eat with us day in and day out. You get the same good service here always.

THE VOICE

I woke, startled by a voice close behind me. I turned, but could distinguish nothing. All round me was black—an impenetrable darkness, save for a solitary shaft of light that pierced the air above.

Again I heard the voice. It was close to my ear. It said, in a raucous whisper: "You're completely in my power. Your life lies in the hollow of my hand."

I started. Silence. Then it came again: "Only a moment longer and you will be no more." The strain upon my shattered nerves was becoming insufferable. Silence again. Suddenly I heard it close to my ear: "Your time has come."

Completely unstrung, I sprang to my feet and wheeled about.

"Damn it, woman," I hissed, "isn't this movie bad enough without reading the sub-titles aloud?"—Exchange.

My girila, you know her, so beauty, so sweet,
Her figure so lovely, her temper so nice,
She lika Spaghetti, and garlic, and onions,
And always she smella so much lika spice.
I call her my "Garlica"; she thinka I nice;
I lika her onions, she lika mine;
And I come from Italia, and tell hér, my darling,
Oh, Garlica, Garlica, you are divine.
But, oh, when I kissa her, she notta the same,
Garlica, Garlica, my onion-like queen;
For since she gotta here in America
She usa the stuff they calla "Listerine."

Dr. Downey gives a test designed to determine literary talent. There is one which has to do with completing a third line for a story plot when two of the lines are given. Here are some famous completions:

"The man had an operation for appendicitis.

When he woke up the hospital was in flames."

This is what Bobby Hines wrote:

"He thought the operation had been unsuccessful."

"The girl cried all night

She was married the next day."

This is what Dean Boyer wrote:

"People often do queer things after a hard night."

The professor in Short Story Writing was lecturing to his class on the requirements of a good short story. "Every short story must have a touch of religion, a touch of nobility, and a touch of the risqué. Now, bring me the beginning paragraph fulfilling these requirements of a good short story." Thus he instructed his class, and some young hopeful did as he was bid. His opening sentence was as follows: "My God, said the Princess, take your hand off my leg!"

BOTTOMS UP

BY BERTON BRALEY

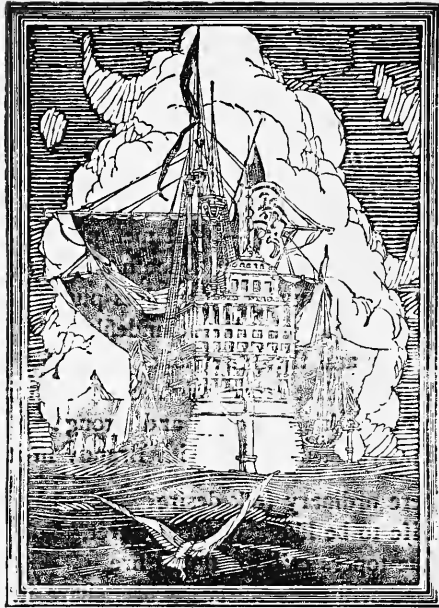

("Every now and then I like to drink the wine of life—with brandy in it."—Letter of Theodore Roosevelt to Senator Lodge.)

The Wine of Life!—Most men prefer
 A vintage bland and smooth and mild,
 Something to make their pulses purr
 With soft enchantment undefiled;
 But now and then one stalks along
 Whose thirst grows mightier by the minute,
 Who takes his tippie hot and strong:
 The Wine of Life—with Brandy in it!

Where ordinary folk desire
 Life to be like a watered claret,
 These toppers call for liquid fire
 And with their lusty fellows share it.
 In every row with Destiny
 They are the fellows who begin it,
 Guzzling like vikings bold and free
 The Wine of Life—with Brandy in it!

They swagger to the Bar of Fate
 And slap their roll upon the bar,
 Demanding singeing distillate
 Fit for the hardy souls they are;
 They take their potent portion neat
 And scorn with icy or fizz to thin it.
 Only one mixture they find sweet—
 The Wine of Life—with Brandy in it!

Fighters and gamesters, pioneers,
 Whose taste is spoiled for milder things;
 Who rollick down the roaring years,
 Swigging of life that sears and stings!
 And we—we watch them, and we think:
 "They drink too deep, we're all agin' it!"—
 Yet wish WE had the nerve to drink
 The Wine of Life—with Brandy in it!

The new and unusual—that sparkling reality which is known as the life of each school year—is caught and held forever within the pages of Bureau built annuals. The ability to assist in making permanent such delightful bits of class spontaneity rests in an organization of creative artists guided by some 17 years of College Annual work, which experience is the knowledge of balance and taste and the fitness of doing things well. In the finest year books of American Colleges the sincerity and genuineness of Bureau Engraving quality instantly impresses, one. They are class records that will live forever.

SAGEBRUSH

Pine-plumed the grotesque buttes arise
Like monsters squat and dumb,
As shrill the watchful curlew cries,
"Behold, the armies come!"
The ghostly ranks pass in review
'Neath flags of twilight haze;
The west wind low and thrillingly
Their martial music plays.

From column into line they wheel,
The skirmishers advance;
Yet ne'er a gleam of bayonet,
Nor glitter of a lance.
In silence sad they sweep the plain,
Like veterans grim with age;
Across God's somber-land they march,
The gray ranks of the sage.

STYLE AND VALUE

At Money-Saving Prices

STYLE is only worthwhile when it is linked up with Value;
STYLE isn't hard to find and is often mistaken for Value;
STYLE is desirable; the new things, naturally, are what folks want. But with Style, you want, and get here, worthwhile quality and VALUE;
VALUE then, at this and every other J. C. Penney Co. Store, is assured, WITH Style; WITH Quality—it's a winning combination that's winning new friends for this store every day; every week; every month.

THE ROUNDUP COOK

There's good cooks and there's bad ones—
 No harm in bein' frank :
 But, speakin' genar'ly, I'll say,
 A roundup cook's a crank.
 There's something aggravatin' in
 The dealin' out of chuck,
 That makes a man not care fer jokes,
 And feel down on his luck.

If you should think to doubt my word,
 Jes' go and sass a cook ;
 And then fer some deep hole to hide,
 Go take a sudden look.
 While goin's good, you'd better go
 Before the hash-knife falls,
 Before the boss of pots and pans
 Your frame in anger crawls.

But yet we sort of like the cook,
 And love to hear him say :
 "Oh, you'd better come and git it,
 Or I'll throw it all away !"
 And to his face—tho', privately,
 We cuss him now and then—
 We brag upon his chuck and act
 Like perfect gentlemen.

TO A RATTLESNAKE

You try your best to slip away
Across the sun-baked alkali;
And failing, rattle warning fair,
While I decree that you must die.
My gun roars out, I ride away,
I've killed a rattlesnake, that's all;
No more o'er sun-baked alkali
Will that dread shape in hatred crawl.

"In hatred crawl?" Speak I the truth?
I take your life as if I knew
I had the right; yet I cannot
Return that which I took from you.
A baby has been known to lay
Its little hands on you in glee,
And you struck not. Perhaps my hate
Is what stirs hate in you for me.

THE STAMPEDE

The thunder bellows o'er the plains,
The lightning brands the sky;
And like a horned and hooved cyclone
The stampede surges by.
The storm-gods beat their great war drums,
Their fury to proclaim,
And tip the tossing, clashing horns
With phosphorescent flame.

The heaving tide of flesh sweeps on;
A lone guard vainly strikes
To turn the plunging, frantic beasts
That senseless panic drives.
The broncho stumbles; yet in death
The man his mission fills;
For, veering from that huddled shape,
The herd in safety mills.

My girl is like the sweet wild rose
 That blooms along the way,
 My girl is like the welcome shower
 Upon a sultry day.
 My girl is like a fungus vine
 That clings to any tree;
 You think her green? Oh, no, I mean
 The way she lives off me.

My girl is like the summer breeze
 That sways the willow tree,
 Her wondrous eyes are like the skies,
 As blue as blue can be.
 My girl is like a rippling brook,
 Because she's fast? Oh, never!
 Just take a look at any brook—
 It babbles on forever.

JUNIOR SNEAK DAY

When the Seniors were Juniors they thought they were pretty smart. When the Seniors were Seniors they still thought they were very smart. As it turned out, the Seniors were not so smart as when they were Juniors. When the Seniors were Juniors they "snuk" out and had breakfast in the hills one bright morning, returning about the time the then Seniors (1924) were getting started after them, believing that they had really "snuk." 1925 pulled this stall a couple of times and then really did sneak. The tradition is that the Juniors sneak and not that they take several "breakfasts" out in the hills as pre-sneak day celebrations. 1925 then broke out with derisive accusations that the Seniors of their day did not live up to the traditions of the school; in fact, they accused 1924 of burying said traditions. The Seniors, when they were Juniors, were pretty smart. The Seniors, when they were Seniors, were not so smart. 1926 snuk and spent the whole day doing it. 1925 snuk after and spent the whole day doing that.

The Seniors had "scouts out" from midnight on. Said "scouts" spotted the Juniors' place of assembly and even watched the assembly to all the important details of loading the grub. Then—What Ho! At the most important happening of the whole evening—the take-off—the Senior Scouts felt the call of gastronomical pangs and repaired to Tom Cambor's Eating Emporium, assuming that the dumb Juniors would wait at the assembly place for the Seniors to come back and follow them out to the Sneaking Place. However, the Juniors were not quite that dumb. When the Seniors returned after having satisfied the complainings of the gastric juices, the Juniors had snuk to parts unknown. The Seniors took after and met the Juniors—coming home. Well, the Seniors, when they were Juniors, thought they were pretty smart. The Seniors, when they were Seniors, were not so smart!

THE END
